PATROLMAN PALMER
HAD NARROW ESCAPESerious Automobile Collision
Averted at Corner of Moody
and Aiken Streets Today

Patrolman George B. Palmer had a narrow escape from serious injury this morning when an automobile he was driving, nearly collided with another large machine at the corner of Aiken and Moody streets, one of the most dangerous spots for automobiles in the city. Fortunately both men were able to steer their machines out of the way of each other and in this manner a bad collision was averted.

Patrolman Palmer was driving his Ford touring car down Aiken street, coming from his home in Eighteenth street, at a fair rate of speed. When he reached the junction of Moody and Aiken streets, he took a long turn to the right, and just at that moment a large touring car headed toward Pawtucketville at a good speed, made its appearance at the corner. At first it was thought a collision was unavoidable, for the two machines were so close to each other. However, both men applied the brakes, and directed their motors to the right. The automobiles grazed each other, but there was no damage. Many who witnessed the accident cannot explain how the collision was averted. One party said both men were to blame, for neither driver blew his horn, and both were looking in opposite directions of their autos. Nevertheless the collision was averted, and it is safe to say both men will hereafter be more careful, especially when driving around that dangerous corner.

LOCK DOOR AFTER ROBBING HOUSE

Key Workers Entered Dwellings
in the Wright Block and Stole
Jewelry and Cash

An amateur robbery was committed in the Wright block at the corner of Liberty and Chelmsford streets a few days ago, and the police are still looking for the thief, who managed to get away with a little booty consisting of jewelry and cash. Two tenements were entered and ransacked in the middle of the day, and the thief took time to lock the doors before leaving the place.

The tenements visited were those occupied by Mrs. Mae Prescott and Mrs. Dunn, 4 Liberty street. One is on the second floor while the other is situated a story higher. The culprit it is believed visited the flat of Mrs. Prescott first and there secured a gold watch valued at about $50. Later the thief entered the tenement of Mrs. Dunn, a flight higher, and there got a diamond ring valued at about $50. In both places the rubber worked his way in by means of keys and after leaving the apartments locked the doors.

The thefts were committed in the middle of the afternoon, while everybody was away. Both Mrs. Prescott and Mrs. Dunn are employed at the Shaw Stocking Co. and they were at home during the dinner hour. They left shortly before one o'clock and returned to their work, locking their doors before leaving the buildings. When they returned in the evening they found their flats had been entered and investigation disclosed the fact that some of their jewelry was missing. The matter was immediately reported to the police, but their efforts thus far have proved fruitless.

It is also reported that another flat in the same block, occupied by Mrs. Hill, was entered and there cash to the amount of about $1 was taken away. The victims of these thefts as well as the neighbors, firmly believe the breaks were committed by an amateur instead of a professional thief, for in Mrs. Prescott's apartment were a valuable gold bracelet surmounted by diamonds and some cash which were left intact, while in the other flats valuables were also omitted.

A lady who conducts a variety store on the first floor of the same building said she does not remember seeing strangers entering the block on the afternoon the burglaries were committed, and this also leads to the belief that the "job" was done by some one familiar with the place, and people who knew where the women are employed. However, the residents of that vicinity are all worked up over these thefts and they fear the breaks may be duplicated in other places.

REPLACE BALL SIGNALS

The Mass. R.R. Commissioners Issue Order

BOSTON, June 19.—The system of ball signals that has been governing the movements of railroad trains must be replaced by July 1, 1914, by a more dependable system, wherever the former is in use in this state. This is the order of the Massachusetts board of railroad commissioners issued today. Broadly stated, the ball signals system relies more on what railroad men call the "human element" than does the interlocking arrangement where switches and signals work together automatically.

In a memorandum accompanying the order the commissioners state that "ball signals" were responsible for the collision of trains at Lawrence on June 1. The Boston & Maine R. R. Co. is directed to install at South Lawrence an interlocking signal system that will be approved by the commissioners.

Opened This Evening With a Reception Preceding the Banquet.

The formal opening and dedication of the new club house of Lowell council, 72, Knights of Columbus, located in Anne street, will take place this evening when a grand banquet of all the members will be held. Among the principal speakers will be Mayor James E. O'Donnell, Daniel J. Gallagher of Boston, and State Deputy Louis Watson. An informal reception will start at the rooms at half past six and immediately following will be the banquet. It is thought that nearly all the local Knights will be present.

Two Attachments Recorded

There has been recorded at the registry of deeds at the court house an attachment against Inez M. Harrington of Billerica in the sum of $500 by Margaret L. Boudry of Lowell.

An attachment has also been brought against William M. Thompson of this city in the sum of $3500 by Charles F. French and Ralph G. Duane of Melrose, in an action of contract.

EXPERTS AT CITY HALL

Examine City's Books in Connection
With Charges of Exceeding
Appropriation

Auditors in the employ of District Attorney John H. Higgins are working behind closed doors in the common council chamber at city hall today. They are representatives of the American Audit company and have been employed by the district attorney to examine the financial books of the city in connection with the charges made by Mayor James E. O'Donnell against Commissioner George H. Brown, the mayor charging, in a letter to District Attorney Higgins, that Mr. Brown, as commissioner of streets and highways in 1912, exceeded his appropriation.

The district attorney, after receiving Mayor O'Donnell's communication relative to the conduct of Mr. Brown, as commissioner of streets and highways in 1912, wrote to the mayor asking him for some specific evidence in the case and the mayor forwarded what papers he thought were necessary.

With the documentary evidence the mayor sent a letter advising the district attorney that more facts could be obtained at the office of the city auditor and suggesting that the district attorney might send auditors to Lowell to verify the evidence that he had sent by mail.

Municipal Investigation

Some time later the grand jury came to Lowell, and city officials, including the mayor and Commissioners Barrett, Cummings and Donnelly, the city auditor and city clerk, were requested by the district attorney to appear before the grand jury and give evidence.

In the case in question, it being referred to at that time as a municipal investigation, Commissioner Brown did not testify before the grand jury. A few days after the evidence was taken it was learned that the grand jury had adjourned until September, and it was supposed that the investigation would go over to that time, but a little later it became known that the district attorney would order a special audit of the books in connection with the charges against Commissioner Brown.

Referred to Chief Gettemy

District Attorney Higgins informed Mayor O'Donnell that he had decided to send auditors to Lowell and the mayor called Mr. Higgins' attention to the fact that accountants from the state board of labor and statistics had just completed an examination of the financial books of the city for 1912 and he thought Mr. Higgins might be able to get the necessary information from Chief Gettemy of the state board. Mr. Higgins did not know that Gettemy's men had been in Lowell and he said he would consult with him.

It seems that Mr. Gettemy's report did not include the unpaid bills of the street department for 1912, and the district attorney then decided to send his auditors here. The auditors were expected to arrive yesterday, but did not put in an appearance until this morning.

James Hall to Charge

James W. Hall, C. P. A., will have charge of the work here and will have two assistants. Mr. Hall has offices at 31 State street, Boston, and is resident manager for The American Audit company.

Mr. Hall was seen by The Sun reporter at city hall and, after finding out that the reporter knew that the audit was on, said: "Yes, we were employed by the district attorney to come here and examine the books in connection with the charges made against a commissioner for exceeding his appropriation."

"Are you going over all the books, or just the street department books for 1912?" asked the reporter. "We will go over all the books of all the departments," said Mr. Hall, "in order to determine whether or not the charges or counter charges have any foundation in fact. We will then submit our report to the district attorney."

Mr. Hall was asked if his company was a sort of detective audit company. "No indeed," he replied. "The American Audit company does all kinds of work, but it is true that we do make a specialty of municipal work."

Asked how long it would take to complete his work in this city, Mr. Hall said it would be impossible to tell.

AIRBRAKE EXPERT SAYS ENGINEER SHOWED
"VERY BAD JUDGMENT" IN STAMFORD WRECK

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., June 19.—General Manager Barde of the New Haven road that the reverse of a locomotive might never be applied with the airbrakes on as the wheels would lock. The distance of the run of the train would then be prolonged. Mr. Barde asked this question because it had been testified that the Engineer Doherty had tried to work the reverse gear but was unable to.

He went into a technical discussion of "lost time" of the test run of the

ONE MORE REMOVED TO THE PEST HOUSECase Under Observation Proves
Positive—Smallpox a Repeater
—Not a One Time Disease

The board of health had another case of smallpox reported late yesterday afternoon, but it was not in every sense a new case inasmuch as it was down on the books as "under observation." The case was that of Andrew Lavoie, aged 12 years. His home is at 215 Cheever street. Dr. McAvinue, reported the case as suspicious. Later he made a more careful diagnosis and he was then satisfied that the boy had smallpox. Dr. Livingston, expert for the board of health, was called in and his diagnosis agreed with that of Dr. McAvinue.

The boy was taken sick June 14. He was then attending St. Joseph's college. His father and mother work in the Tremont & Suffolk mills. There are four children in the family and none of them was ever vaccinated until yesterday. Andrew will be removed to the smallpox hospital in Chelmsford street.

Unsuccessful Vaccinations

The question of unsuccessful vaccinations was discussed at city hall today and it was brought out that while some doctors, a majority of them perhaps, give children a certificate of vaccination admitting them to school immediately upon vaccinating them, for the first time the board of health requires that the person vaccinated shall

LAWRENCE STRIKE FUND CASE

Judge Braley of Supreme Court
Reserved Decision But Consents
to Report Matter

BOSTON, June 19.—Judge Braley of the supreme court, after a hearing on the adoption of a final decree in the Lawrence strike fund case, today reserved decision but consented to report the matter to the full court, it so requested by counsel for the respondents, Joseph Bedard, William Yates, William Trautman and Joseph Shalhean, the trustees. The attorney-general sought to have the four respondents held personally responsible for the $18,555, which it is alleged was paid out of the fund for purposes other than the relief to the strikers, the ostensible purpose of its collection.

John E. Lynch, for the four strike leaders who acted as trustees, said that the total amount raised for the benefit of the strikers was for various purposes and that the master who examined the case had been unable to determine what part was contributed for relief which alone would constitute a public charitable trust. Mr. Lynch also stated that Yates and Trautman acted at times as chairman and book-keeper respectively of the strike committee, keeping the matter under advisement. Judge Braley said that the burden was upon the respondents to show how much of the fund was contributed for general purposes and how much for relief. Unless such a distinction was shown, the respondents might be charged with the whole thing.

TRIAL OF ARTHUR PELKY

Charged With Causing
McCarty's Death

CALGARY, Alberta, June 19.—Arthur Pelky, the pugilist, was to be placed on trial before Chief Justice Harvey today charged with causing the death of Luther McCarty in the first round of their fight at the Burns arena here May 24th. A large number of witnesses have been summoned from the United States. Medical evidence is expected to take up the greater part of the hearing, the defense having indicated it will show that the blow delivered by Pelky did not cause the dislocation of McCarty's neck and his subsequent death.

Many sport promoters and newspaper men have been called as witnesses. The selection of a jury was expected to take considerable time.

RANCH BOI COMING

The Big Wild West Aggregation to Be in Lowell on July 2nd, After an Absence of Two Years

After an absence of over two years, during which it has successfully toured the United States from coast to coast, Mexico and British Columbia, Miller Brothers & Arlington's 1913 Ranch Wild West show will return to Lowell, Thursday, July 2, the scene of some of its earliest triumphs, and will give two exhibitions on the old Fair grounds, Gordon street, afternoon at 2, evening at 8.

The first tents to go up will be the cook-house and horse tents. The first is necessary to provide breakfast for the several hundred employees, and the second is essential to secure the early shelter of the stock. There are hundreds of horses with the show, a herd of buffaloes, and a bunch of long-horned Texas steers. After the stock has been provided for, the big arena with its open amphitheatre and canopy-covered seats, the Indian village with its curious totems, and all the other tents required for the various departments of the show will be erected. One of the most interesting features of the Wild West is the fact that the performers do not "make-up" for their parts as in the circus. They appear in the arena in their everyday costumes—which are always striking—just as they dress on the ranch. The first big feature of the engagement will be the parade. Great floats will tell the story of the early days of the pioneers: Rocky Mountain Range, one of the old-time stage-coaches, will carry the floats of the show. The show will be an Indian village on wheels, and scores of cowboys, cowgirls, Indians, Mexicans, Cossacks and others. The performances will take place at 2 and 8 but the floors will be open an hour earlier to permit the public to view the Indian village and to hear the concert by the 1st Cavalry band. An especially varied performance is promised. The exhibition, with two exceptions, is confined entirely to Wild West features. The exceptions are the Cossacks, who give a strenuous exhibition of rough riding, from the standpoint of the East, as compared with that of the American cowboy, and a sensational game of auto polo, in which four machines, with their chauffeurs and male-female men, contend for honors. This is credited with being one of the real novelties of the year. The congress of Wild West celebrities is headed by Joseph C. Miller, the noted ranchman. There are exhibitions of rough riding with "cut-throat" horses; a round-up with long-horned Texas cattle; a buffalo hunt; an attack on a stage coach by Mexican bandits; a fight between hostile Sioux Indians and a band of pioneers; remarkable sharp-shooting by Princess Wenhwa, a little Oklahoma girl, and a big company of actors and other strenuous stunts. Among the Indian novelties with the show is Iron Tail, the Sioux chief, whose profile is on the new nickel. There will be a grand spectacular street parade on the morning of exhibition day, which will eclipse anything ever before given in connection with a Wild West show.

HARVARD'S OLD MAN DEAD

Rev. I. T. Coolidge in Class of 1838

BOSTON, June 18.—The Rev. James I. T. Coolidge, 86 years old, of the class of '38, Harvard, died last night at 3 o'clock from double pneumonia. He was Harvard's oldest living graduate.

Death came to the "old man" who was known and loved by hundreds of Harvard men, while many classes of Crimson graduates were enjoying themselves with dinners in the hotels and clubs of Boston.

The passing of Harvard's "Grand Old Man" was not unexpected, for he had been ill for three weeks at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Walter Dearn, 41 Brewster street, Cambridge. Mr. Coolidge also leaves a son, Ellery Channing Coolidge.

With the death of Mr. Coolidge there are now left three representatives of the class of '38. They are: Dr. James Lloyd Wellington of Swansea, 55; the Rev. Edward Augustus Bennett, S. T. D., of Keene, N. H., 95; and Jacob Weld Seaver, who has just passed his 92nd birthday.

Dr. Coolidge was born Nov. 1, 1827, at 11 Hancock street, Boston.

TWO PICKED UP DEAD

German Airmen Were Killed Today

BERLIN, June 18.—Two German airmen were killed today at the Johannesbad aerodrome in the suburbs of the capital. Aviator Kraft, carrying as a passenger a man named Fritz, had ascended with the intention of making a two hours' flight. There was practically no wind and the plane was making good speed when it suddenly turned a somersault at a height of a hundred feet, throwing the aviators to the ground, where they were picked up dead.

Merrimack Square Theatre
That the Merrimack Square theatre is "The Coolest Spot in Town" is readily agreed by everyone who has visited this popular amusement place, since the warm weather set in. No matter what the weather may be on the outside it's always normal here.

The program being given there this week, too, is worthy of your consideration. It includes Ozman & Gilmore, those clever girls, Juggler Mathews, who does a few tricks you have never seen before, Lillian Shanny, the Philadelphiad, the outstanding Kline of Newark, and Ned Julian, of Syracuse, who does a few tricks you have never seen before.

It's a fact that nothing can be more beneficial to your children than the Merrimack Square Theatre. The climate is so splendid and health-giving, and you can spend a few weeks more comfortably and at more reasonable cost than in Colorado. If like to help you decide when and where to go, I have all the information here in my office to help you—hotel and boarding-house rates—and a mighty valuable folder on Colorado with maps and pictures and full details. 14 AMERICANS KILLED

In Fighting on Jolo Islands, the Philippines

WASHINGTON, June 18.—Fourteen American soldiers were killed in the recent four days fighting on Jolo Island, the Philippines, when General Pershing's command, finally subdued and dispersed the rebellious Moros, according to a report yesterday to the war department.

On the list of dead were Captain Taylor A. Nichols of the Philippine scouts, 11 scouts, and two privates of the regular army.

Captain Nichols, who was 34 years old, was commanding a second lieutenant in the Philippine scouts in 1905 and received his captain's commission in March, 1912.

TO ARREST PATROLMAN

On Charge of Murder of Ralph P. Shea

BOSTON, June 18.—Captain Ainsley Armstrong of police headquarters will today ask Judge William Sullivan of the municipal court to grant a warrant charging Patrolman Charles E. Miller of the Language street station with the murder of Ralph P. Shea of 75 Carver street on Tuesday morning.

Charge a Formally

The request for the warrant will be made in the course of the regular police routine in all homicide cases. The evidence collected during the investigation of the shooting will be presented to the court by Captain Armstrong. The stories of each witness examined by him for or against Patrolman Miller will be given and the matter left in the hands of Judge Sullivan.

Independent of this step is the investigation which is being conducted by Medical Examiner Leary, who will request that an inquest be held to investigate the exact circumstances of how Shea met his death. This is done because of the fact that Medical Examiner Leary will not himself determine the result of his investigation.

The family and friends of Shea claim that he was unjustly shot by Miller and that at the time the second shot was fired by the policeman the crowd had disappeared, being frightened by the first shot, and that Miller's life was not in danger as he claims.

They are determined to press the matter to the end so that the alleged placed upon Shea by the allegations made that he was one of the leaders in the gang who is alleged to have attacked Miller may be removed.

SIX LIVES LOST AT SEA

Fishing Schooner Cut in Two by Liner

BOSTON, June 18.—Practically cut in two by the Warren liner Sagamore, the Gloucester fishing schooner Olympia sank off Cape Cod early Tuesday morning, with the loss of Captain John A. Bennett of Portland and five of his crew. Eight of the men saved themselves by climbing into the rigging and jumping aboard the steamer as their vessel was rapidly sinking beneath them.

The Sagamore arrived below last night and a reporter, who met the liner on a tug, the survivors told how Captain Bennett, one of his sons and four other men were called from their bunks only to rush on deck to be swallowed up by the sea.

Another of the captain's sons, Frank L. Bennett, saved himself after a vain effort to assist his father and brother. The Sagamore struck the fishing schooner during a thick fog, and the sailing vessel tilted and went to the bottom a few minutes after she was struck and ripped apart by the transatlantic liner, which was coming from Liverpool to Boston.

The Olympia had Gloucester on a week-long fishing trip. She carried a crew of 11 men. The lost men were Captain Bennett, his son, John Loring Bennett of Portland, William Sullivan of Eastport, Mr. Ramsey Bennett of Gloucester and Nova Scotia, Frank Bennett of Eastport, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bennett of Eastport, and Fred Thann of Portland.

Those who saved themselves were John A. Young of East Boston, Frank Costa of East Boston, James B. Larkin of Gloucester and Nova Scotia, Frank Leslie Bennett of Portland, another son of the captain, Frank R. Dyer of Portland, Arthur Bennett of Eastport, Mr. Michael Flaherty of Gloucester and Newfoundland, and Stephen Verge of Gloucester.

HARD CAMPAIGN IS ON

Heavy Voting in Library Contest

The friends of the Lincoln Grammar and Lowell High schools, as was expected, are falling into line for these worthy contestants with a snap and vim which bodes ill to contemporary workers if they lag a moment in the good work. A large number have sent in their orders for The Sun to be sent to their homes regularly and it goes without saying that these workers are voting in the contest stores, for a coupon clipper is a merchant voter 59 times out of a hundred. The wise worker knows full well that each and every opportunity should be embraced if the same policy is pursued, and you can rest assured the friends of these schools won't overlook the one vote. They are hustlers from the sound of the bang to the last call. Even one hundred is a tremendous army when organized and there is an active bunch out for each of the schools. Remember that the second week the 25 leaders of each class are accepted as the permanent contestants so look out that your favorite is numbered among the favored ones.

The great contest will soon bound on upward and upward, one day suggesting the certainty of leadership for some particular contestant only to be reversed in favor of another the next day. All of which is due to the fact that everybody has the habit. To old, young, the great, the small, are persistently demanding the privilege of voting.

The Sun represents a value that cannot be substituted, for it is teeming with all the best local and national news items.

SCHEME FOR PUBLIC BATHS

MIDDLE STREET BUILDING PROPOSED FOR PUBLIC BATHS

Still in Controversy Between Ald. Cummings and Barrett—What Architects Say

Will a majority of the municipal council favor Ald. Barrett's scheme for public baths at the Central fire station in Palmer street?

This is somewhat of an important question at this time and opinions differ as to the feasibility of Mr. Barrett's proposition. Of course, when it comes to a show down, the baths cannot be installed in the Central fire station unless Commissioner Cummings says that the building can be used for that purpose and Mr. Cummings has already accused Mr. Barrett of going over his head in the matter. Mr. Barrett obtained estimates from outside parties before he brought the subject to Mr. Cummings and the latter, at a recent meeting of the municipal council, told Mr. Barrett that he did not like that way of doing business. Mayor O'Donnell at yesterday's meeting of the municipal council, went on record as in favor of having estimates of the cost of installing the baths and swimming pool made by architects. He said he was in favor of Mr. Barrett's proposition but he did not believe in Mr. Barrett taking estimates from contractors or carpenters in the fire department. Mr. Barrett had said that the baths and pool could be installed for $13,000 and the mayor allowed if the expense would be as much as that the city could well afford to pay an architect to furnish plans and estimate of cost and have the work done right.

Francis Connor, inspector of buildings, says that the baths and pool cannot be installed for $13,000 and that the cost would be considerably more than that. He said the building will have to be reinforced, but Mr. Barrett says that isn't necessary. The matter will come up at the meeting of the council to be held next Tuesday forenoon and Mr. Cummings will then present estimates prepared in his department. In the meantime the following letters, received by Mr. Cummings from local architects are of interest:

F. W. Stiekner's Letter

June 18, 1913.
Mr. Lawrence Cummings, Commissioner, Lowell, Mass.

Dear Sir:—In regard to your request to me through Mr. Connor, superintendent of public buildings, in regard to the cost of a proposed change in the fire station so as to provide for a public bath. I wish to state that it will require a great deal of study and research to properly comply with your request. I assume that the city of Lowell will propose to pay for the expert opinion in this particular case, as it would mean careful measurements, questions of heating, lighting, ventilation, etc. I have had some experience in these matters, and know what they cost. An ordinary cement pool will not do. It must be reinforced and lined with some non-absorbent material either Terrazzo, tile or enamel brick.

There are many other items of expense which would not perhaps occur to one's mind in making an appropriate estimate. Mr. Connor has informed me today that the expert opinion is not required. Thanking you for your courtesy, I am

Very truly yours,
F. W. Stiekner.

From Henry L. Bourke

Lowell, June 17, 1913.
Mr. Lawrence Cummings, Commissioner of Public Property and Liens, Lowell, Mass.

Dear Sir:

Mr. Francis A. Connor, inspector of buildings, requested me to examine the Central fire station and submit a report to you by Wednesday of this week, showing prepared sketches and estimates for the alteration of building for a public bath.

I looked over the building with Mr. Connor on Monday of this week and I feel that I cannot submit a report to you by that date as I would want to give the matter thorough consideration and would want more time before making a report to you on the cost for the alteration of building. Sincerely yours,
Henry L. Bourke.

Architect Harry Prescott Graves was also consulted in the matter and, in a letter to Commissioner Cummings, stated that it would be absolutely impossible for him to conceive an intelligent idea on the matter in so short a time. Mr. Graves said: "I am perfectly willing to take up the matter and give you my best judgment provided the time for the submission of this opinion can be extended. I find that it will take considerable research and minute examination of the buildings and will involve considerable time for which, of course, I expect to be compensated."

"GOD BLESS YOU," SAID WIFE TO JUDGE ENRIGHT ON DECIDING HER HUSBAND SHOULD CONTRIBUTE TO HER SUPPORT

Charles Liversey was again in court this morning, charged by his wife with non-support. The defendant is a rather feeble old man who lives in a small camp in Danvers on the banks of the Merrimack river. He raises what vegetables he uses and earns $5 a week, he informed Judge Enright this morning. His wife asserted, however, that her husband should be made to support her. "Why don't you live with your husband?" inquired the court. "Because I refuse to leave my crippled son," replied the complainant, "and besides I wouldn't live in that old place anyway." The court took a few minutes' time to go over the facts in the case and then asked the woman what she could get along on. "Your Honor," said the complainant, "I want to show that man that he has got to support his wife if I only get a few cents a week from him." "This is no spite case," affirmed Judge Enright, "and this case will not be settled in that manner. Order the defendant to pay $2 every week to the probation officer, Mr. Clerk, for the maintenance of his wife." "God bless you," fervently ejaculated Mrs. Liversey as the court rendered its decision.

Cornelius F. Coughlin made a very earnest plea to have his case placed upon file or at least a suspended sentence imposed, but the court did not feel justified in letting the defendant off so lightly. Coughlin was already under a suspended sentence for drunkenness; the same charge which rested against his name this morning, and the suspension was simply lifted. He was sent up to the house of correction for a term of six months. Amos C. Marshall was sent to jail for a period of two months for drunkenness. A youth was charged with drunkenness and the larceny of $1.50 and pleaded guilty to both charges. The drunkenness charge was ordered placed on file but he received a $50 fine for larceny. He took the money from two girls and ran away. He was fortunate to escape without a sentence and got a severe lecture from Judge Enright. The case of Peter Contos and Athanasios Geanacopoulos, accused of threatening a fellow countryman, was continued upon petition of the prosecution, until one week from today. There were three $2 drunks and six releases by Probation Officer Slattery.

TURN IN LOBBY INQUIRY Committee to Subpoena Judge Lovett

WASHINGTON, June 19.—The senate's lobby investigation reached out into new fields yesterday when the senate, acting on a resolution presented by Senator Norris, ordered the Overman committee to subpoena Judge Robert S. Lovett, chairman of the board of directors of the Union Pacific railroad, to explain a published statement credited to him in New York that lobbyists had sought to secure employment from the Union Pacific on the ground that they would be able to influence a settlement of the Union Pacific-Southern Pacific dispute.

resolution case in Washington. Earlier in the day the committee had made public, over the protests of a lawyer representing Henry T. Oxnard and Truman G. Palmer, a series of letters written by these two best sugar representatives showing a long continued effort to influence legislation in Washington; to control congressional committees; and to direct national political affairs in support of the continuance of a protective sugar tariff. Chairman Overman had not determined last night whether a railroad phase of the investigation would be opened. A summons was sent yesterday to Charles B. Warren of Detroit, president of the Michigan Sugar company and one of the men to whom many of the Hamlin letters, produced yesterday, were addressed. Mr. Warren was asked to appear before the committee tomorrow, and it is expected he will be asked for more details of the beet sugar publicity campaign.

VACCINATION IN SCHOOLS THE INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL

Physicians Find Many Unsuccessful Cases Attractive Work in the Girls' Department

The reports of school physicians relative to vaccination in the public schools and as submitted by Sept. Molloy at the board of health meeting yesterday, covered about all of the schools and the two or three schools omitted will be heard from later. The reports gave the number of children in each school, that were not vaccinated; the number having physician's certificates of unfitness for vaccination; and the number of unsuccessful vaccinations, as follows:

Bartlett school, 3 not vaccinated; 35 unsuccessful vaccinations.

Cross Street school, 4 unsuccessful.

Bartlett Kindergarten, 2 unsuccessful.

Butler, 6 not vaccinated and sent out to be vaccinated; 15 unsuccessful.

Carter Street, 6 not vaccinated.

Lyon Street, 2 not vaccinated; 12 unsuccessful.

London Street, 3 not vaccinated; 7 unsuccessful.

Weed Street, 20 unsuccessful.

Apawam Kindergarten, 5 not vaccinated; 1 unsuccessful; and 1 with necessary certificate.

Colburn school, 2 not vaccinated; 3 unsuccessful.

Abraham Lincoln, 1 not vaccinated.

Abraham Lincoln Kindergarten, 1 certificate.

Howard Street, 3 not vaccinated.

Moody Kindergarten, 2 not vaccinated and 1 unsuccessful.

Sycamore, 5 sent out to be vaccinated.

New Moody, all vaccinated.

Lexington, all vaccinated.

Riverside, 21 unsuccessful.

Varnum, 61 unsuccessful.

Varnum Kindergarten, 2 not vaccinated.

West Sixth Street, 1 not vaccinated and 5 certificates.

Washington, 1 certificate.

Ames Street, 1 unsuccessful.

In view of the fact that the reports brought out so many unsuccessful vaccinations, the question arose as to whether the law governing vaccination in schools meant "successful" vaccinations and it was argued that if a child was vaccinated and received a doctor's certificate to that effect, the child would not have to be admitted to school regardless of the fact as to whether or not the operation was successful.

Section 6 of the general rules for schools reads as follows:

"No child shall be admitted to school without a physician's certificate of vaccination or of unfitness for vaccination, or other satisfactory evidence of security against smallpox. No child from any family in which any infectious or contagious disease has occurred, or shall hereafter occur, shall attend any school in this city until a written notice has been received from the board of health, announcing that all danger of infection has passed in the case reported."

The municipal council took a view, the other day, of various sites offered for contagious hospitals and it was expected that the council at its meeting this forenoon would take action in the matter, but no action was taken.

ASSAULTED YOUNG GIRLS Choate Jailed After Denunciation by Judge

PORTLAND, Me. June 15.—A scathing denunciation and a sentence of one year in jail, the maximum penalty, were received by Frank Choate after conviction in the municipal court today of an assault upon two young girls in a moving picture house.

Judge Charles L. Donahue declared that the class of men of which Choate was a type did more damage in the world than any other criminals with whom the court has to deal.

A LITTLE NONSENSE

PREVOST, DAREDEVIL OF THE AIR, HE'S THE WORLD'S FASTEST FLIER

RENNES, France, June 13.—Maurice Prevost earned the title of being the fastest aviator in the world when he flew around the aviation field here for about eighty miles at an average speed of 111½ miles an hour. The feat was a remarkable one and made the spectators fairly dizzy. It was predicted, that if Prevost continued his bursts of speed in future tests he would surely fly to his death. Prevost is one of the most daring and expert drivers. In the accompanying illustration he is shown seated in the care of his monoplane, looking very much as though he were in a racing car. The start of a speed test is also shown.

CENSURE OF CABINET Climax of Scandal in Marconi Shares

LONDON, June 15.—The climax was reached today of the scandal connected with the ministerial transactions in Marconi shares at the time the British government was negotiating contracts with the company. Cabinet ministers who had been implicated were today given their first opportunity of making a public explanation of the transactions which had caused the most acute party strife known in British politics for many years.

George Cave, a Unionist member, who, on behalf of the opposition, moved a vote of censure on the cabinet regarding the transactions made with Marconi, in the course of the debate, declared that the Marconi company, the cabinet minister had, according to Mr. Cave's contention, broken the rule providing that no cabinet minister should take a favorable or an advantage from a man contracting with the government.

MURDER IN FIRST DEGREE

Henwood Found Guilty in Second Trial

DENVER, Colo., June 12.—The jury in the second trial of Harold P. Henwood for the killing of George E. Copeland, returned a verdict of first degree murder yesterday and prescribed the death penalty.

Henwood shot Copeland, Sylvester Von Paul of St. Louis and James W. Smith, in a local hotel. Copeland and Von Paul died. Henwood was convicted of murder in the second degree in the first trial. The supreme court reversed the decision and remanded the case for a new trial.

Customs Reorganization

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Treasury department officials have practically abandoned hope of securing from congress a postponement of the customs reorganization until Jan. 1, 1914, and are preparing to effectuate this sweeping reform on July 1. A bill of postponement which also would authorize Secretary McAdoo to make further changes in the customs system has passed the senate but it is believed to have little chance in the house.

Health and Beauty Advice

BY MRS. MAE MARTYN

Katie: I advise you to use this formula for a hair-tonic, because it is personal knowledge it does more for the hair and scalp than anything else. It is easy to make. Into 1½ pint water, add 1 ounce quinine and 1½ pint water. This quinine tonic quickly stops the itching and cures the dandruff and itching of the scalp and tender scalp. The regular use of this inexpensive tonic corrects dry, scaly conditions or excessive oiliness, because it makes the scalp and hair healthy; and to dull, brittle, faded hair will give a brilliance and softness, as well as restore the former color. For best results it is well to shampoo with canthrox. (See answer to "Lella.")

Lella: Yes, rubbing pyroxin on eyebrows, will induce them to grow thick and glossy. Apply pyroxin at last night and morning to a sore and they will grow long, silky and curly. This treatment is unfailing, but be careful not to get any pyroxin where hair is not wanted.

Mabel P.: A thick paste made of delatone and water, and applied to those hairs for 2 or 3 minutes will entirely dissolve them. After the delatone is removed the skin should be washed with astringent and then a harmless and in no way makes the faintest complexion. You must, however, be sure it is delatone you get.

Bertha: Yes, delatone dissolves sometimes reduce your weight. An easier and better way is to dissolve the unnecessary fat-tissues with the aid of the parosol treatment. This treatment is made by adding 4 ounces parosol to 1½ pints hot water. When it cools take one tablespoonful three times each day. Keep up the parosol treatment regularly and in a short while you will have gotten rid of the annoying fat and your figure will be gracefully slim and rightly proportioned and the skin will be light and smooth.

Laura: Your dull eyes will take on a delightful sparkle and expression, which you can get from any drugstore, by putting 2 or 3 drops of a crystal white in them daily for awhile. It is an old-fashioned and very economical remedy which also soothes the burning and relieves the itching after one or two applications. It is simply fine for granulated eyes. To prepare, dissolve an ounce crystals in 1 pint cold water and it is ready to use. It is absolutely harmless under all conditions.

Lella: In a case like yours where the scalp is so sensitive I should use canthrox. Get from your druggist an original package and dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water and your shampoo is ready. You will find canthrox shampoos very beneficial, because they remove every trace of dandruff, excess oil and leave the scalp and hair-roots healthy and vigorous. Canthrox is beneficial to the finest hair and to dull, streaky, lifeless or brittle hair gives a fullness as well as restores the natural color.

Zoe: Loss of appetite and that bilious cast to your skin plainly indicate a derangement of your liver and kidneys. Prepare this excellent and inexpensive tonic and take a tablespoonful three times a day: Into 1½ pint of alcohol put 1 ounce cardamom, 1 ounce ginger and to this add 1 ounce sugar, then hot water to make a quart. This tonic will quickly correct liver and kidney troubles, and as a blood-purifier and system-tonic it has no equal. It is also greatly beneficial to people suffering from lack of vitality, and its regular use will give to a blotchy, pimply skin a rich color, healthy and delightful clearness.

Dorothy: It is a pleasure to know that you are so well pleased with quinine as a hair-tonic. I have great faith in a spumax lotion, because it is far superior to powder and will surely overcome the shiny, "quinty" condition of your skin. Just get 4 ounces spumax from your druggist and dissolve it in 1½ pint witch hazel or hot water and add 2 teaspoonfuls glycerine. When the spumax lotion is on it cannot be detected, and it lends an exquisite rose-tint and youthful charm to any complexion. Once you try this lotion you will much prefer it to any powder you ever used. It is especially nice for tan and freckles.

Cora H.: To remove wrinkles, I use this purely vegetable product which I make at home. It is unlike creams containing animal fat as it does not grow hair nor make the flesh loose. Just dissolve an ounce of almond, which you can get from any druggist, in ½ pint cold water and add 2 teaspoonfuls of glycerine. Stir and let stand for one day. To remove wrinkles apply a thick coat of this cream-jelly and leave on over night. This protects the skin and allows the blood action to be used in constructing new texture. In the morning wash it out of the pores and massage thoroughly with more of the cream-jelly. This makes the skin soft and velvety, while it is unequalled in reducing large pores.

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT ST. MARGARET'S ANNUAL LAWN PARTY—MARATHON RACE ON COMMON

REV. CHARLES GALLIGAN,
Pastor.

GEORGE P. GREEN,
Treasurer.

FRANK W. FOY,
General Manager.

The numerous enjoyable events, carefully arranged and most successfully carried out, the extremely large gathering of patrons, excellent music, and the ideal condition of the weather, all combined in making the annual lawn party of St. Margaret's parish, held at the Casino grounds in Thorndike street, last evening a most delightful and successful event. It was estimated that during the afternoon and evening, the number of people who were present at the entertainment was in the vicinity of two thousand, and it is certain that everyone was pleased. No little credit is due the officers and members of the committee in charge of the affair for the capable manner in which they handled the arrangements.

The afternoon was devoted to the little ones of the parish, with a list of sports and other entertainment. The results of the various contests were as follows: Potato race, 1st prize, Lawrence Condon; 2nd prize, Edward Murphy; obstacle race, 1st, Charles Rogers; 2nd, Henry Garritty; egg race for girls, 1st, Esther Libby; 2nd, Esther Kenny; girls' backward race, won by Mildred McOsker; three legged race, won by Wilfred Mann and Edward Kane. Suitable prizes were awarded to the winners.

Another feature of the afternoon was a pageant of nations by the children, for which they were capably trained by Miss Blanche Perrin. There was a procession representing the various nations, the costumes of the children being well gotten up, and then there were also several dances of the nations, all prettily executed. The following children took part in the pageant:

Schenberg Won Marathon Race

Eric Schenberg, a Finlander, in this country but a short time, who has recently sprung into prominence in local running circles by his remarkable performance against the best milers of Lowell on Memorial Day, was the winner by a good margin in the marathon race which started at seven o'clock in front of the Casino entrance. The course comprised five laps about the entire South common, a distance of approximately 5 miles, including one long up-hill grind on South street. Schen- berg was a general favorite in this race. His time was 25 minutes and 4 seconds.

There were ten entries: Eric Schen- berg, Joe Christo, George Goddard, Jas. Carr, William Salmon, Fred Couture, C. B. Noyes, Clement Harriman, George Nelson and Nelson P. Dickey. Goddard who was the winner of the five mile event at the South common on May 30, was also picked to finish among the leaders. The streets and common near the Casino were thronged with spectators who persisted in blocking the course, and the members of the police force who were on duty merited commendation for their work in pre- serving order. The runners lined up in front of the Casino entrance and His Honor Mayor James E. O'Donnell, the official starter, fired the pistol which released them; the great race was on.

At the first corner, Thorndike and Summer street, Goddard and Christo took the lead, running shoulder to shoulder with the others bunched about them. At the end of the first lap they were still in first and second places respectively, with Carr third and Schenberg fourth, running easily. The others were beginning to strain out along the course. In the second lap, Dickey was taken with a sharp pain in his side and was forced to leave the track. He was cheered, for he had run well and looked promising. The positions of the runners in this lap remained for the most part unchanged, except for the fact that Couture ran ahead of Carr and Salmon, the old timer was among the last of the com- petitors. Schenberg still held in, ap- parently running with no effort. He was cheered at every appearance. Christo and Goddard alternated in holding the lead. The third lap saw Christo, Goddard, Couture, Schenberg and Carr still the first five. In the fourth, things began to change for Schenberg sped ahead of the others and began acquiring a substantial lead. Christo and Goddard undertook to follow the pace set, but it was too much for them. Couture also, who had been trailing in fourth place, gained considerably. As they came around for the last lap, the Finn was leading by about fifty yards, Christo and Goddard closely bunched and Carr fifth. But in about the middle of the lap, Couture began to creep up, and in a short time passed Christo and Goddard, taking second position in the procession and running well. Schenberg finished first by a good fifty or sixty yards, and was greeted by a madly cheering crowd at the finish. His finish was remarkably strong after the hard grind. His time was 26 minutes, 4 seconds, which is considered good. Couture was second and closely following him were Christo and Goddard, the former about a foot ahead of his running mate. Carr came in a good fifth but had to be carried to the dressing room. Everyone agreed that it had been a wonderfully good contest and one of the best that has been seen in Lowell for some time. Schenberg is due to be a star in the long distance events if rightly handled.

The prizes were awarded the winners in the Casino during the evening, and consisted of first, suit of clothes; second, dress suit case; third, pair of shoes; fourth, umbrella; fifth, hat. All of the prizes were high priced and of the best quality. The runners were cheered enthusiastically as they came forward at the call of Frank Foy. The donors of the prizes were Mayor O'Donnell, Commissioners Donnelly and Cummings and James Miskella.

The judges in the race were George M. Harrigan, and members of the local press. Martin Flaherty was clerk of the course, and had general charge of the runners. James McCarthy was timer, Mayor O'Donnell starter, and John Condon, referee.

J. Nichols, 88 Gates street, won the prize of a ticket to Washington and return and the baseball season ticket was awarded to Cecelia Kinney, 74 Westford street.

Shortly after eight o'clock the pageant of nations was repeated and was highly commended by all who witnessed it. The little folks received enthusiastic applause. Following this general dancing was begun and continued to midnight. The officers of the evening were as follows:

4000 HORSES COMPETE

International Horse Show
at Olympic

LONDON, June 19.—The outstanding feature of this year's international horshow at Olympic which opened today with over 4000 entries and 111 classes, is the riding and jumping competition for the King Edward gold cup for teams of three officers representing the armies of the various nations. The American army is unprecedented on this occasion but the keenest rivalry exists among the seven other entries—France, Great Britain,
Canada, Belgium, Italy, Russia and Sweden. The trophy is competed for by officers in uniform. They have to go twice around the course, jumping obstacles of various sorts ranging in height from three feet, six inches to five feet, six inches. In the other competitions American horses are not quite so numerous as in former years.
Judge W. H. Moore of New York is one of the largest exhibitors, with about 40 carriages and coaching horses, while one of his closest rivals is Miss Mona Dunn, the 24 year old daughter of a prominent member of the Canadian colony, who has entered a string of 35 horses.

A new American competitor is Edward B. McLean of Washington with a stable of eight horses, which have been insured for $100,000.
J. Sumner Draper of Boston also is a leading exhibitor and others are Alfred G. Vanderbilt and Walter Winans. Other exhibitors from across the Atlantic are the honorable Adam Beck, the Hon. Clifton Sifton and F. H. Loudon from Canada.

Tenksbury School Graduation

Board of Inquiry Reports That Accident at Fort Moultrie Was Due to Firing Pin Striking Cartridge

WASHINGTON, June 19.—The recent explosion of a four inch coast defence gun at Fort Moultrie near Charleston, S. C., was caused by the point of the firing pin striking the cartridge before the breech block was locked, according to a report by a board of inquiry which investigated the explosion. The accident resulted in the deaths of Captain Guy B. Hanna, 16th coast artillery corps and two privates while nine privates were wounded.

The condition which caused the disaster is said to have been one that could not easily have been observed.

CLEAN UP MADE OBLIGATORY

Such special clean up campaigns as that waged here recently are very good in their way, but unless they outline a course of conduct for the future they are of no lasting good. If they are followed by a natural reaction and carelessness on the part of the authorities they simply defeat their own purpose. It is therefore gratifying to see that Chief Saunders of the fire department and Superintendent Welch of the police department have got together to enforce the city ordinance which provides for the removal of combustible refuse from yards, alleys and cellars.

The plan decided on by the heads of the departments is practical and, if followed, ought to be found adequate. It provides for a regular inspection of all parts of the city by the members of the respective districts, and those who may be found offending and who refuse to remedy the matter after having their attention drawn to it by the firemen are to be turned over to the police department, which has the authority to enforce the city regulations. It has thus been made impossible for negligent property owners to evade the city ordinance, and it is to be hoped that the effective and feasible plan will be followed to the letter. We have long been in need of such a scheme of general supervision in this matter, and it ought to be taken in earnest by both departments. Once they so regard it, it will not be difficult to teach the people that the city is determined to wipe out the unnecessary abuse of dirty and unsanitary yards, alleys and homes—although many dirty homes will flourish despite the most prohibitive regulations.

Those citizens who have been neglectful in this most important matter up to the present time will do well in anticipating the visit of the representative of the fire department, to clean up before they are compelled to do so. One-half hour spent methodically and regularly will accomplish wonders, and the habit of cleanliness whether in person or property is one that will have an immediate effect for good on these most intimately concerned, on the health of the people, and on the general appearance of the city.

THE IPSWICH MURDER

The murder trials arising from the death of an Italian woman during the Lawrence strike riots are still fresh enough in our memory to convince us that no good can come from holding some of the strike leaders in Ipswich for the murder of a Greek woman there under similar circumstances. Even though it were clear that those leaders were morally responsible for the crime, the courts cannot have a very clear perception of the extent of their guilt under the law, and holding them in jail is merely playing into the hands of those who turn the arrest and imprisonment of strike leaders to their advantage. Probably no other incident drew more converts to I. W. W. doctrines throughout the Lawrence strike than the trial and subsequent vindication of Etter and his associates.

However one may dislike the propaganda of those who managed the Lawrence and Ipswich strikes, it seems a far-fetched proceeding to arrest any for the Ipswich murder except the person who wielded the revolver from which the fatal shot was fired. Even though the riot was the result of incendiary doctrines taught by the imprisoned leaders, the crime of murder cannot be laid to their charge before the law, even though in reality they may be indirectly responsible. It is safe to predict that the leaders will not be convicted of murder, and a long imprisonment followed by release will only draw to them the sympathy of the unthinking masses who are swayed by passions and prejudice rather than reason.

Although the arrest of strike leaders may be followed by a temporary calm, the passions of those who were inflamed by the violent speeches will still smolder, and the flames that break out after a long smoldering process are not so easily extinguished as those that flare up at the beginning of the conflagration. It is the duty of the American people to reach de facto foreigners that the law is their protector instead of their enemy and that this will not be done by arrests that cannot be followed by conviction. On the contrary it gives color to their suspicion that the law is placed against them whether they are right or wrong. A much better policy would be to drive out the professional law-breakers whose business it is to sow the seeds of discord and revolution wherever they can.

COASTWISE SHIPPING

The report of Chairman Alexander of the house ship trust investigating committee at Washington bears out the contention of those who have argued against the exemption of American coastwise shipping from Panama canal tolls on the ground that to do so would only tend to foster domestic monopoly. He avers that the committee discovered thirty methods of regulating domestic rates so that there would be practically no competition. To quote his own words: "Practically all the lines serving both the Atlantic and the Pacific seaboard of the United States are members of conferences or work in co-operation through written agreements of oral understandings."

This revelation is a reflection on the wisdom of refusing to renew the expired treaty with Great Britain, or refusing to submit the Panama canal tolls question to arbitration. If the question were arbitrated and decided in favor of America, it is evident that the coastwise shipping would have to be changed somewhat before the exemption would prove of any benefit to the American people. If decided against us it would be more in accordance with our national honor, and more of a benefit than a hardship, according to the findings of the government investigating committee.

A PRETTY ROMANCE

A news item tells us that the ex-wife of Upton Sinclair, the socialist author who attracted wide attention by the publication of "The Jungle" some years ago, and later by his matrimonial troubles, is to be married again. This is neither uncommon enough or startling enough to attract special attention were it not that the affair is described as "a pretty romance." A pretty sickening romance would be a truer if less elegant description. We are told that the romance lady who had very pronounced views on "soul mates" a few years ago went to recuperate at a sanatorium because of nervous prostration—due probably to the shock of the divorce. There she met a gallant young man who was undergoing treatment for a like ailment. All ye true lovers attend to what is to follow: They fell in love at first sight. This, some may say, is a familiar ring, but instead of the moonlit waves, or the garden of the chateau, or the latticed tower, or the shady wood with the cooling doves and the setting sun, we have the grossly modern sanatorium, the divorce, the shattered nerves, and the pseudo-sentimentality. "True," it is indeed a pretty crude romance.

THE SMALLPOX SCARE

The smallpox scare—which by the way has proved itself to be more than a scare—has had one very interesting aspect, and that is the fact that most of the parents of those afflicted possessed ignorance of the real nature of the disease. If this ignorance, was real, it is a proof that some people will take grave chances in sickness before calling in a doctor; if it is feigned, it proves that many are swayed by a false sense of loyalty. Whether the Lowell epidemic is due to ignorance or a terrible negligence cannot be determined as yet, but considering the circumstances we have every reason to be glad that the effect has not been far more serious. As the matter stands we would be confronted with a far more ominous situation were it not for the vigilance and splendid activity of the board of health.

THE PHILIPPINE QUESTION

If the views of the secretary of the navy can be taken for the views of the administration, his speech in Charlestown on Monday evening proved that the much discussed Philippine question is not being ignored, and will be met as soon as the more pressing domestic matters are settled. How it will be ultimately decided cannot be guessed from his allusion, but his views as secretary of the navy carry a great deal more weight than those of any other American citizen with the possible exception of President Wilson. The extract is as follows:

"The United States should not have armies for conquest, and when this country embarks upon colonialism it embarks upon a dangerous sea, contrary to the spirit and purpose of this republic. When the country embarks on colonialism in the Philippine Islands, on a policy of treating people as if they were slaves, I feel that they were forging a war chain in our republic."

DANCE HALL LICENSES

Undoubtedly before granting licenses to dance halls the licensing committee does all in its power to see as those that dare up at the beginning of the conflagration. It is the duty of the American people to reach de facto foreigners that the law is their protector instead of their enemy and that this will not be done by arrests that cannot be followed by conviction. On the contrary it gives color to their suspicion that the law is placed against them whether they are right or wrong. A much better policy would be to drive out the professional law-breakers whose business it is to sow the seeds of discord and revolution wherever they can.

Seen and Heard

The framing of an opinion by one in the position of city solicitor affords splendid opportunity for elegant display of legal verbiage. The language of the average solicitor, in opinion submitted, is very often too copious for the diminutive comprehension of the layman. We note in a recent opinion on the language, "insuring an expedition" of conducting the affairs of the city. If this isn't a superfluity of verbiage, what is it?

What is John B. Clancy's standing as a lawyer? A Dutch room habitué asked the question on the evening of the day that John B. so ably (?) conducted his own case in police court. He was charged with maintaining a stable without a license and John tore off several yards of original argument and then asked for a continuance that he might be afforded the opportunity to brush up on a few "points" in the order that he might "put something over on the judge," meaning the city solicitor. The habitué's question provoked considerable argument, and culminated one of the number, "John B. has had considerable experience as a lawyer. Only this afternoon I was in the library looking over some old newspaper files and in October, 1891, I noticed a great big article on the front page and it was all about John B. Clancy conducting his own case in court. That very evening, strange to relate, I picked up the evening paper and the headlines over the story about Mr. Clancy arguing his own case in court, were identical with the words captioning the article which I had read in the October, 1891, paper. "Is that a true story?" asked the fellow who is known as Old Man Skeptic. "Absolutely true," replied the man with the story. "Then, all I have to say," said Old Man Skeptic, "is that John B. has had mighty poor counsel during all these years."

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The Lobby
Lawiston Sun: President Wilson has started a struggle that promises the most precious step ahead since the Civil war. It will restore Congress to its rightful position, the position of real legislation. If it was patriotism to stand by President Lincoln in the terrible struggle he was forced into, it is no less patriotic to stand by President Wilson in the momentous struggle he has forced against the lobby. Slavery, as it was called, was not a more pernicious enemy—not so sleek, seditious an enemy—of the republic as is the lobby today.

Farmers' Banks
Lawrence American: President Wilson is understood to be deeply interested in the scheme for farmers' banks, whereby farmers will be enabled to have access to growing crops, which calls to mind the fact that President Taft made serious efforts during the latter part of his administration to establish such banks. In this day when the encouragement of agriculture is of the utmost importance such a scheme appears feasible. European countries have worked out the plan successfully and there is no good reason why it cannot be done in the United States.

The New Haven Wreck
Portland Express: The New Haven railroad seems to be playing an unusually hard luck, particularly in the vicinity of Bridgeport. Yesterday's disaster was the second of a serious nature within the past eight months. For that matter nearly all of its many accidents of comparatively recent date have occurred within a small radius. This latest horror, the horror of the theory many entertain that the rear car of the train is the safest. It is rarely, too, that parlor car passengers are the worst sufferers as in this case. Apparently wherever the human element must play a part there is no such thing as absolute safety anywhere.

Think It Over
Foster's Democrat: A man in Chicago is puzzled about family relationship because his father-in-law has just married his sister. "As near as I can figure it," he says, "that makes her my mother-in-law as well as my sister, and my father-in-law my brother-in-law as well. Then my wife is my sister-in-law and my wife at the same time; and if there should be children in both families, what relation would I be to them, and, worse than that, what relation would they be to each other?" Here are some interesting questions for the Genealogical society.

Lawrence Telegram: Not only do city people have to battle hard nowadays against all kinds of insect enemies of such trees as still grace their streets and parks, but they have a fight against those who in the name of improvement would ruthlessly cut down all the trees that lie in their path.

Automobile Accidents
Salem News: The automobile has had a wonderful development. Great as have been the advances, a larger expansion is yet in store. This fact must be taken into account in dwelling upon the proper use of the highway. Restrictions in the auto field there must be. These are as essential to the protection of the public as they are legitimately to be called for in the interest of drivers. With this concert of action, it would be reasonable to look within due time, for a very welcome subsidence in the volume of street accidents.

The Turk
Lawiston Sun: Among other nations many great events. The last is the driving the Turk out of Europe. Which was not more incredible than the good understanding reached five or six years before between England and Russia, it was England and Russia. It cannot be forgotten, whose century-long rivalry and antagonism made it impossible to do for the Turk in Europe before.

parents burn in earning the tuition fees. For the children it is a history of pleasant work, exhilarating social life, thrilling athletics. It looks like one, kind of holiday when commencement day rings down the final curtain on his scene of pleasure.

No cloud of doubt obscures the graduation of the future. American friendliness to education has so far removed the rocks from the way. Who can doubt that the pilgrim path yet to be trod will be equally smooth? Who would speak his doubts if he has them?

Your Wife
Lawrence Sun: It is because there are so many average wives around the country that we do not despair when we see and read so much of other kinds. They may be unchronicled, unquoted and unused. They are, nevertheless, the feminine salt of the earth. The vote may in due time be thrust upon them, but it will not spoil them. They will never neglect the kitchen for the caucus nor the nursery for the nominating convention.

Manager Pieper certainly has a versatile bunch of ball players in his Lawrence club. Yesterday Luyster, the right fielder, and Pitcher Pearson changed places. Luyster let Lynn down without a run and only five hits while Pearson, in right field, clouted out two doubles.

Daly has them all tied down and counted out when it comes to pinch hitting. Lowell's youthful catcher is the surest "sure thing" there is when he steps up to the plate when batting for some weaker stickler and he is feared already by the wise pitchers around the circuit.

The managers of both Steve Kennedy of Lawrence and Joe Egan of South Boston are trying to find a suitable city in which to let their proteges try once more for the final decision between the two camps. There has been a lot of bad feeling between the two camps and also much bad newspaper talk between the two managers and the next bout between them should be a hummer. If the bout was lengthened to fifteen rounds it is very probable that with the animosity which exists between them, there would be a knockout. This card would be an expensive production but any club can fill their house with this match.

This afternoon one of the biggest open meetings which will be pulled off in New England this summer will be held at New Crescent park, Providence. The principal event will be the 100-yard dash in which Drew, the colored Springfield star, and Al Robinson, the Merceburg crack, will be entries. This race will be one of the closest performances that has been seen since the Olympic trials. Neither man has been beaten. Norman Taber of Brown will be an entry in the mile run.

The Buntings will hold a ten-mile amateur race on their grounds on Saturday, July 5th, which will bring together all the contenders for the ten-mile championship of the Merrimack valley. The race will be a bona-fide amateur contest and will be held directly under the management of the New England branch of the A. A. U. Valuable cups will be awarded to place winners and it looks from the side walk as though the Buntings will be the first club to pull off a real amateur race of prominence.

Manager Gray is of the opinion that the new pitcher, Adams, will make a very valuable acquisition to the team as soon as he strikes his stride. He certainly has the build for a successful slab worker and can burn a ball over. The pitching staff will probably remain the same as it is now, with Zeiner, Maybom, Henderson, Barron and Adams. One of these will have to seek another berth, however, and this fact should prove an added incentive to tight edge box work during the next few weeks.

There have been more errors made in New England league baseball up to date than any previous records show. Just what the reason for this is not known. The teams are not composed of any worse fielders than usual, in fact they look better than the players of the last few years. The only answer can be that the clincher-laden diamond where Duffy entertains his Portland fans has pulled down the holders' averages of every team in the league.

Bernie Wagner, the Red Sox captain, will be laid up for some time with the hand he injured in practice last week. Wagner received a grounder upon the middle finger of his right hand which split the digit badly. Blood poison has now set in and the doctor says that he cannot put on a suit for two weeks unless the wound heals much more rapidly than is expected. This will mean the Indians will have close games for the world's champions.

LOWELL HIGH DEFEATS HAVERHILL

Score 9 to 4—Cawley's All Around Work the Feature—Sturtevant Pitched Good Game

Lowell high defeated Haverhill high yesterday afternoon at Spaulding park in a well played game, the score at the end of Haverhill's ninth turn at bat being 9 to 4. Lowell started scoring in the first inning and was never headed, although Haverhill tied up the game in the fourth. Haverhill came strong in the last two innings and put four runs over the plate.

Sturtevant was in the points for Lowell and twirled a very good game. He was touched up for nine hits, but managed to keep them pretty well scattered with the exception of the eighth and ninth innings. Sturtevant also put the game on ice in the fourth when he slammed the ball over the left field fence for a homer, sending in Gill who was on first base, ahead of him. Sturtevant struck out seven batters in the first three innings and it looked as though he would make a new record but only one more fanned the batters during the remainder of the game.

Cawley played a whirlwind game at short. He played an errorless game in the field and clouted out three savagely hits, one of which would have been a homer if poor coaching had not held him at third. The bage running of Cawley and Gill were the features of the game. Greene made a mighty fine catch of Cawley's hard hit line drive over the third bag in the fifth inning, completing a double play when he stepped on third base before Carter could reach it. Bailey and Carter both played an excellent game in the field. The score:

THIS YEAR'S ENGLISH DERBY, DUE TO MANY CIRCUMSTANCES, WILL ALWAYS BE REMEMBERED

LONDON, June 15.—The running of this year's English Derby at Epsom Downs will always be remembered by the public. This is due to the number of things that happened during and after the race. The great event was run June 4. Not only was Craganour, the favorite for the race, disqualified after finishing first—the race being awarded to Aboyeur, a 100 to 1 shot—but Miss Emily Davison, a militant suffragette, ran across the course at Tattenham corner and seized the bridle of the king's horse, Anmer. At that point there are double rails, and the spectators are kept behind the inner rail. Walter Earl, who rode Agadir in the race, says Miss Davison started under both rails, dashed right under the head of Agadir with her eyes fixed on Anmer, who was slightly behind and on the outside, and deliberately threw herself in front of Anmer, with the dreadful result that the horse struck her, knocked her senseless, but was himself brought down through being unbalanced. Of course the horse fell, and Jockey Jones, who was hung heavily on to the bone hard ground and badly hurt. Miss Davison died from injuries a few days later. Recently Craganour was sold to the government of Argentina for the sum of $500,000. The picture shows the finish of the race. The names of the horses and jockeys riding them (left to right) are: Nimbus (M. Henry), Great Sport (G. Stern), Craganour (J. Abeyour (E. Piper), San Yat (W. Huxley), Louvois (W. Saxby), and Shogun (F. Weston).

FINE MINSTREL SHOW

Given by Y.M.C.A. Boys
Last Night

A very enjoyable minstrel show was given by boys of the Y. M. C. A. last night. The scene of the entertainment was the Y. M. C. A. hall and the large audience present was very enthusiastic over the work of the performers. The proceeds of the show were for the benefit of the summer camp of the Y. M. C. A. The boys were all dressed in yachting costumes, with yachting caps and represented the Jack tars of Uncle Sam's navy. The stage was made to represent the forward deck of a battleship. The sailors were grouped on the deck and ushered in the opening scene with that familiar song, "Sailing, Sailing." The deck was then cleared for the minstrel show and prior to the raising of the curtain, C. N. Cushman's Y. M. C. A. orchestra gave an overture. The minstrel show program was as follows:

"On the Trail of the Lonesome Pine," Lewis Grand; "The Old Maid's Ball," Thomas Rogers; "When You Hear Me," George Love; "The Village Band," by Ernest Orrell, assisted by the entire band.

George Love gave a concert solo with orchestra accompaniment and Emmet Roberts gave a lively clown dance. Miss Anna Murphy, who was pianist for the show, gave a piano solo, and Albert J. Wicke entertained with character sketches. Mr. Wicke was the interlocutor. The end men were Emmet Roberts, Harold Dunn, H. A. Maxwell, and Thomas Rogers. The soloists for the show were: Messrs. Wickes, Orrell, Grand, Hayward, Fletcher and Dacey. The members of the chorus were: Earl Spaulding, Paul Conway, Robert Ward, Augustus Dutton, Ray Russell, Earl Leadbetter, Ray Barrows, Donald Fletcher, Carter Hay, Roland Falls, Arthur Thompson, L. Brown, Samuel Babin, Wm. Martin, George W. Williams, Wm. Golden, William French, Joseph Hart, Ray Forges, Ray F. Stevens, Alice Taylor, Arthur McIntosh, Fred Pickering, Herbert Coggins, Norris Marston.

Sam P. Carlick Says Lowell Players As a Whole Shape Up More Like a Class A Team

Sam P. Carlick, of the Boston Post, a well known authority on baseball players, was at a Lowell game the other day and expressed his opinion on some of Jimmy Gray's players in the following article:

The Lowell players, as a whole, shape up more like a Class A team than an ordinary New England organization. To the writer they appear to be about as strong as Bill Smith's fast moving Atlanta ball team, which defeated the Boston Braves in two out of a five-game series this spring and which has been making trouble for all other clubs in the Southern league since then. There is just this difference. In the ranks of the Atlanta club there were many former major leaguers, men who had been in the big show for several seasons. There are no such men on the Lowell club. There are players there who have been up for a trial and been sent back for more seasoning or because there was no room in the ranks of the clubs which drafted them. But on the whole the Lowell players look like a class of men whose careers are before, not behind them.

Take First Baseman "Jack" Halstein, the old University of Vermont player, for instance. There are very few first sackers in either the National or American leagues better. He is the sort of first baseman who makes life easier for the other infielders. They don't have to do much aiming, all they have to do is to get the ball away. Halstein will look out for the rest if the throw is anywhere near the base.

He pulls down the high ones about as well as Fred Tenney used to do in his palmy days, and digs them out of the dirt almost as well as Jake Daubert is now doing for Brooklyn. Halstein is destined to go higher at the close of this season, if not before, for already major league managers have begun to cast covetous eyes upon him and more than one scout has been down in the Spindle City looking him over.

Now Looks Good

In Eddie Miller, Manager Gray has a player who has been up once. He was given a trial by the Browns, but was sent back for weak stickwork. Today, Miller is smashing them for around 400, and is showing a world of speed in the field and on the bases. He should go higher next year at the latest.

The same may be said of Tom Daly, the former Cambridge schoolboy, who is now playing his first professional ball. Daly gets after foul flies nicely, throws to bases well and handles himself like a catcher of several years' experience instead of a man just breaking in. All that he needs is a little more experience to make him a valuable man for a big league team.

HARVARD WINS IN 14TH GRAYS LOSE 3 IN ROW

Defeated Yale, 4 to 3, in Yesterday's Game

Portland Won the Third Straight From Lowell

BOSTON, June 15.—Gannett and Hardwick will long be remembered by the sons of Harvard, for yesterday afternoon on Soldiers Field these two sent Yale down to a 4 to 3 defeat in the greatest and most nerve-racking game ever played between the rival colleges.

Fourteen innings of sensational and spectacular baseball were needed to reach the decision which gave Harvard the victory and sent the series to a tie.

Gannett was the man who with a flashing single in the ninth inning sent Ayres home with the tying run, while he also scored the winning run when Hardwick slammed the ball to the far corner of Soldiers Field and brought to a close the greatest game in Harvard's baseball history.

At once Hardwick had made the hit which brought home the bacon, the Harvard robots broke down the fence which lined the diamond and actually fought to get these two ball players on their shoulders, so that they could carry them about the field.

For the third time within as many days Lowell went down to defeat yesterday before Hugh Duffy's Portland team. This result gives Portland a fairly good hold on second place.

Errors in the Lowell outfield helped matters along for Portland. Magee muffed a fly of Bowcock's and Clemens booted a hard hit grounder; both misplays counting in the run column. Portland played errorless ball, a very difficult performance on their own grounds.

Cory handled the sphere for the Duffites and Lowell hit him hard throughout, when hits being gathered off his delivery. Henderson, who started the game for Lowell proved worthy but a puzzle and was taken out in the second after Portland had connected with the ball for three hits. Adams, who replaced him, lasted five innings before he was chased to the bench and Maybom finished the game. Two hits and one run were scored while the latter was on the mound.

Merrill was the real battling feature of the contest, with his four safe hits. Burns and Wornwood also hit well for Portland, while Miller, Clemens and Daly showed class with the stick for the local team. Daly went in to bat for Adams in the seventh and landed on the ball for a double. Aubrey accepted nine chances in the field without a misplay. The score:

More Trouble Feared at Charleston, W. Va.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., June 18.—A general strike of the miners in the New River coal field, district No. 25, United Mine Workers of America, will be called next week, according to an announcement last night of Thomas Haggerty, member of the International Miners board. Fifteen thousand men are employed in the New River field. The decision to call a general strike was reached yesterday at Beckley, W. Va. Mr. Haggerty attended the meeting and returned here last night. Whether 15,000 miners will be idle depends, it is said, upon what concessions may be granted by the operators. It is believed that some of the operators within a few days will grant terms agreeable to their employees. In all such instances, it is estimated, such operators will be protected when the strike comes. The members of the miners' board at the Beckley meeting today held the strike in abeyance, but with difficulty. The miners, it is said, are restless and on the verge of organizing a walk-out. It is rumored the New River operators were in conference late last night. A strike in the New River field is expected to result in a renewal of the strike on Cabin and Paint creeks.

ON For Washington

CHARLESTON, W. Va., June 18.—The senate mine strike investigation committee closed up its work in Charleston for the present and started last night for Washington. The committee took under advisement a request made by attorneys for the West Virginia coal operators that a subcommittee be allowed to return to Charleston at a later time to complete the taking of evidence which the operators desire to submit. The investigation will be resumed in Washington within the next few weeks. Senator Swanson, chairman of the committee, announced before the committee adjourned.

Bishop Sees Attempt to Control University

ATLANTA, Ga., June 19.—Charges that the recently announced gift of one million dollars by Andrew Carnegie to the Vanderbilt university at

Nashville, Tenn., "is not a donation but a shrewd attempt to get control of part of the university property" and that the retired iron master is "dangling money before the public with the purpose of influencing litigation pending over the university," are made in a statement given out here yesterday by Bishop W. A. Candler of the Methodist Episcopal church, south.

Bishop Candler characterized Mr. Carnegie's offer of a donation to the university as an "impudent proposal of an agnostic steel magnate."

"This loud heralded gift," Bishop Candler's statement recites, "on close inspection of its terms appears to be no gift at all, but a shrewd attempt to get control of a part of the property of Vanderbilt university in order to set up a medical school fashioned according to the peculiar ideas of Mr. Carnegie."

LADIES' DAY AT COUNTRY CLUB

A Large Number Went to the Island This
Afternoon

With the weather conditions ideal and the general arrangements perfect in every detail, the annual "Ladies' day" of the Vesper Country club took place today at the beautiful grounds on Tyng's Island. There were present very many members together with their ladies and all thoroughly enjoyed the day's events.

The club house and grounds were attractively decorated with laurel and many flowers of various descriptions. Japanese lanterns were strung about, adding to the picturesque of the scene and in readiness for illumination tonight.

Early in the afternoon the members and guests began to arrive, and first of all enjoyed a stroll about the grounds, admiring the surroundings. From every side were heard words of praise and appreciation of the artistic work of the decorative committee and expressions of delight at the general appearance of the place. A more beautiful spot could not be found for the complete enjoyment of such an outing.

The many and alluring amusements were sought by all according to their taste. Some were pleased to remain in quiet in the shady spots and enjoy the activity of the others; not a few found enjoyment in gliding over the waters of the river in canoes, while others resorted to the golf links to settle the question of superiority in that department. The sixth regiment band was in attendance and furnished excellent music throughout the afternoon.

Among the feature events scheduled to take place in the afternoon were some tennis matches, the contestants in which are some well known experts at the game. The principal competition was a match game of doubles in which the players were Ted Whitney of Boston, winner of the recent Longwood tournament, and a close competitor in the contests for the championship of Massachusetts; Dick Bishop of Boston, another prominent expert performer on the courts, who has held titles in singles in the big tournaments; Irving C. Wright, a third player and title holder from the club who has defeated some of the best men in the east; and "Rab" Seaver, who for several years held the state championship in singles.

FRED P. MARBLE, Esq.
President

Some of the Vesper club's best players participated in the other contests. J. H. Martin of the Country club was scheduled to meet Charles Currier, a Boston star, in a game of singles, and a similar competition was arranged between S. M. Rockwell of the Vesper club and Robert M. Currier, of Boston. No mean interest was centered about these games for all of the contestants are well known in tennis circles.

During a portion of the afternoon, a number of the ladies engaged in a tournament of whist as a pastime, while others remained to look on. This was a most pleasant feature.

The afternoon, however, was only the beginning and there is further enjoyment prepared for this evening. At about half-past five, supper will be served, continuing to seven-thirty, and following this there will be a concert of special numbers by the band, after which general dancing will be enjoyed in the club house.

Harry Pollard was chairman of the general committee in charge of the arrangements and his assistants were Percy Thompson and William G. Brown.

the standard that has been accomplished by the Howe school.

The principal address of the day was given by Professor Marshall L. Perrin, Ph. D. of Boston University, whose subject was "American Ideals." In the course of his address Professor Perrin said that for at least some of the graduates the school days were over and with the training that they have already received together with earnest work in future years success was assured them. At the close of his talk he congratulated the members of the class for the fine showing they have made and for having the ambition to work to the high Professor Perrin was an eloquent speaker and his address this afternoon as well as being interesting was instructive to those whose school days are over as well as to the graduating class.

During the exercises music was given by Hubbard's orchestra.

This evening the Howe School association will hold its seventeenth annual reunion in the gym hall. At six o'clock dinner will be served and a social hour will be enjoyed at which there will be speaking by the members and guests. Dancing will be enjoyed from 9 to 12. Officers of the association for the coming year will be elected.

Those who received a four year diploma were:

Evelyn Kathryn Casey, Rita Marion Collins, Ruth Elizabeth Elliott, Florence Judith Perry, Roy Lorin Gleason, Mary Josephine Hayes, James P. Schwartz, Beatrice Irene Swinton.

The three year course graduates were:

come to that office ten days after the first vaccination. If the first was successful a certificate is allowed, and if not successful the subject must come a second time with instructions to call again in ten days. In other words, and to make a long story short, the board of health does not issue certificates unless the operation has been successful.

Dr. Charles E. Simpson, inspector for the state board of health, participated in the discussion this morning and offered some very good suggestions. Dr. Simpson said, among other things that a comparatively recent vaccination is better protection against smallpox than having had the disease a number of years ago.

This statement was the basis of a surprise to those in the party who entertained the belief that smallpox was a "one time" disease. They did not know that one could have the smallpox more than once and they quizzed Dr. Simpson very closely. It is a fact, and I say it emphatically for the benefit of the reporters for it is something that ought to be generally known, that comparatively recent vaccination is better protection than to have had the smallpox a number of years ago.

The doctor also expressed himself as in favor of the system of vaccination in vogue in the U. S. navy. The modus operandi is to clean the arm well with alcohol, then put a small drop of serum on the arm and with a sharp needle make a double cross. The doctor says there is less danger from poison in the system is more effective than in the ordinary process used. Dr. Simpson also gave as his opinion that no doctor should give a certificate of vaccination admitting a child to school unless he knew the vaccination was successful.

Public and Private Schools.

"Is a private school a public school?" This question is somewhat ambiguous, but it has been asked just the same, and by a member of the board of health. It was Dr. Carroll who asked it and he put the question to the mayor at a recent meeting of the board. The question was asked in the course of a discussion of the smallpox situation, the suggestion having been made that the law governing vaccination in public schools should apply to all schools. The mayor said that while a private school could not be considered a public school, he believed that the law governing vaccination in public schools should apply to private schools as well.

The number of unvaccinated children found in private schools was greater than was anticipated and so much greater than the number found in the public schools as to make it imperative that the same system, employed in public schools, relative to vaccination, should be enforced in private schools. The total number of children found not to be vaccinated in the public schools was 8 and the board of health agrees with Sup. Molloy that the showing is a good one. The question of vaccination, when it comes down to a final analysis, remains with the teacher and section 16 of the public school rules, as published in The Sun, yesterday, makes it a very important duty on the part of the teacher to see to it that all pupils entering schools have certificates of vaccination.

SUPERIOR COURT

The Case of Percy vs. Boston & Maine Railroad Was Given to the Jury Today

The case of Percy vs. Boston and Maine, a $15,000 suit for alleged injuries received by the plaintiff due to the negligence of the company, was brought to a close this morning in the superior court, after having been on trial for the past several days. Judge Pratt began his charge to the jury shortly after the opening of the session this morning and its delivery was not completed until about 11 o'clock. The case was then given to the jury.

Land Case Called

Following the conclusion of the case against the railroad company, the suit of Thomas H. Elliot vs. City of Lowell was called for trial. The action is one of contract, brought to have the jury assess the damages alleged by plaintiff to have arisen from the seizure of a lot of land by the city at the corner of London and Maine streets, where has stood a school house. It appears that the city has hired the land for some time and conducted a school there and recently seized the land to erect a new school house. There were several witnesses in the court this afternoon, including real estate experts, and a good deal of the plaintiff's testimony was submitted. Lawyer Hanna represented the plaintiff, while the city's case is being upheld by City Solicitor J. Joseph Hennessy.

Horse Stolen

The local police received a telephone from the police of Fitchburg this morning stating that a horse had been stolen from Dr. C. A. Keene of that city late yesterday afternoon. Inspector Walsh was assigned to the case.

CLASS OF 1913 OWNS HARVARD

Reunion at Sanders Theatre in Honor of 632 Men Who Received Degrees Today

CAMBRIDGE, June 19.—Today Harvard university belonged to the class of 1913. The class reunions, large and small about the campus, were merged in a general reunion at Sanders theatre in honor of the 632 men who received degrees in course from President Lowell.

The commencement program, which was the 27th was notable for the bestowal by the university of sixteen honorary degrees, in one instance a distinguished South American was honored, the degree of doctor of laws being conferred on Dr. Lauro Muller, the Brazilian minister of foreign affairs, who was a guest of Harvard today.

The honorary degrees were conferred as follows:

Dr. Lauro Severiano Muller, minister of foreign affairs of Brazil and special ambassador to the United States. Edmund Wetmore, attorney of New York. John Lambert Cadwalader, attorney of New York.

After the degrees had been awarded the crowd of men in caps and gowns with their well wishers poured out of Sanders theatre and made their way to various spreads.

Early in the afternoon the line of graduates was formed in front of the Massachusetts hall and the march made to the Faneuil quadrangle for the alumni meeting.

AT HOWE SCHOOL IN BILLERICA

Graduation Exercises Held This
Afternoon — Prof. Perrin the
Speaker—The Graduates

The Howe school graduation exercises of the class of 1913 were held this afternoon in the Billerica town hall at 2 o'clock. A large number of relatives and friends of the class, as each received the same mark in studies as a number of former graduates were present. The hall was tastefully adorned with flowers placed around the walls and the front of the stage class members of the board of trustees was hidden from the audience by flowers of the season and wreaths of green. The class of 1913 is the first class to receive diplomas of graduation from the Howe school.

The program was opened with a prayer by the Rev. J. Harold Bates, pastor of the Billerica Congregational church. First Lesson, "Parable of the Sower," was given by Miss Florence Judith Fiske and this declaration as well as those that followed were very well spoken highly of the class of 1913 and given and the instructors deserve credit for the thorough training they give of the class of 1913 were held this afternoon. Second lesson, "The Parable of the Sower," was given by Miss Ruth Dimock as relatives and friends of the class, as each received the same mark in studies as a number of former graduates were present. PATROLMAN PALMER HAD NARROW ESCAPE

Serious Automobile Collision
Averted at Corner of Moody
and Aiken Streets Today

Patrolman George B. Palmer had a narrow escape from serious injury this morning when an automobile he was driving, nearly collided with another large machine at the corner of Aiken and Moody streets, one of the most dangerous spots for automobiles in the city. Fortunately both men were able to steer their machines out of the way of each other and in this manner a collision was averted.

Patrolman Palmer was driving his Ford touring car down Aiken street, coming from his home in Eighteenth street, at a fair rate of speed. When he reached the junction of Moody and Aiken streets, he took a left turn to the right and just at that moment a large touring car headed toward Pawtucketville at a good speed, made its appearance at the corner.

At first it was thought a collision was unavoidable, for the two machines were so close to each other. However, both men applied the brakes, and directed their motors to the right. The automobiles grazed each other, but there was no damage. Many who witnessed the accident cannot explain how the collision was averted. One party said both men were to blame, for neither driver blew his horn, and both were looking in opposite directions of their autos. Nevertheless, the collision was averted and it is safe to say both men will hereafter be more careful, especially when driving around that dangerous corner.

LOCK DOOR AFTER ROBBING HOUSE

Key Workers Entered Dwellings
in the Wright Block and Stole
Jewelry and Cash

An amateur robbery was committed in the Wright block at the corner of Liberty and Chelmsford streets a few days ago, and the police are still looking for the thief, who managed to get away with a little booty consisting of jewelry and cash. Two tenements were entered and ransacked in the middle of the day, and the thief took time to lock the doors before leaving the place.

The tenements visited were those occupied by Mrs. Mae Prescott and Mrs. Dunn, 4 Liberty street. One is on the second floor while the other is situated a story higher. The culprit it is believed visited the flat of Mrs. Prescott first and there secured a gold watch valued at about $50. Later the thief entered the tenement of Mrs. Dunn, a flight higher, and there got a diamond ring valued at about $50. In both places the robber worked his way in by means of keys and upon leaving the apartments locked the doors.

The thefts were committed in the middle of the afternoon, while everybody was away. Both Mrs. Prescott and Mrs. Dunn are employed at the Shaw Stocking Co. and they were at home during the time the robberies took place. They were not disturbed until shortly before one o'clock and returned to their work, locking their doors before leaving the building. When they returned in the evening they found their flats had been entered and an investigation disclosed the fact that some of their jewelry was missing. The matter was immediately reported to the police, but their efforts thus far have proved fruitless.

It is also reported that another flat in the same block, occupied by a Mrs. Hill, was entered and there cash to the amount of about $4 was taken away. The victims of these thefts as well as the neighbors, firmly believe the breaks were committed by an amateur instead of a professional thief, for in Mrs. Prescott's apartment were a valuable gold bracelet surrounded by diamonds and some cash which were left intact, while in the other flats valuables were also omitted.

A lady who conducts a variety store on the first floor of the same building said she does not remember seeing any strangers entering the block on the afternoon the house was ransacked, and this also leads to the belief that the "job" was done by some one familiar with the place, and people who knew where the women are employed. However, the residents of that vicinity are working hard to find these thieves and they fear the breaks may be duplicated in other places.

LIVELY FIRE IN BOSTON

Threatening Blaze Broke
Out Today

BOSTON, June 19.—Flames and smoke coming from the windows on the fourth floor in the rear of the five-story stone building numbered 44 Summer street, near the corner of Arch street, attracted the attention of workmen in the subway excavation there shortly after 6 this morning, and one of them ran to box 42, opposite the end of Hawley street, and sent in an alarm at about 6:15 a. m.

By the time the firemen arrived the fire had gained much headway and was racing down through the elevator well and making its way in through the third and fourth floors.

The third, fourth and fifth floors of the building are occupied by Sullivan Brothers, tailors, of which firm Brig. Gen. John J. Sullivan, once colonel of the 9th regiment, M. V. M., is the senior member. The cause of the fire was not definitely determined this morning, but it was suspected that it might have been the result of spontaneous combustion, owing to the fact that painters have been working in the building and may have left some oil soaked cloths about, which caused the fire.

BEHIND CLOSED DOORS

Examine City's Books in Connection
With Charges of Exceeding
Appropriation

Auditors in the employ of District Attorney John H. Higgins are working behind closed doors in the common council chamber at city hall today.

They are representatives of the American Audit company and have been employed by the district attorney to examine the financial books of the city in connection with the charges made by Mayor James E. O'Donnell against Commissioner George H. Brown, the mayor charging, in a letter to District Attorney Higgins, that Mr. Brown, as commissioner of streets and highways in 1912, exceeded his appropriation.

The district attorney, after receiving Mayor O'Donnell's communication relative to the conduct of Mr. Brown, as commissioner of streets and highways in 1912, wrote to the mayor asking him for some specific evidence in the case and the mayor forwarded what papers he thought were necessary. With the documentary evidence the mayor sent a letter advising the district attorney that more facts could be obtained at the office of the city auditor and suggesting that the district attorney might send auditors to Lowell to verify the evidence that he had sent by mail.

Municipal Investigation
Some time later the grand jury came to Lowell, and city officials, including the mayor and Commissioners Barrett, Cummings and Donnelly, the city auditor and city clerk, were requested by the district attorney to appear before the grand jury and give evidence.

In the case in question, it being referred to at that time as a municipal investigation, Commissioner Brown did not testify before the grand jury. A few days after the evidence was taken it was learned that the grand jury had adjourned until September, and it was supposed that the investigation would go over to that time, but a little later it became known that the district attorney would order a special audit of the books in connection with the charges against Commissioner Brown.

Referred to Chief Gettemy
District Attorney Higgins informed Mayor O'Donnell that he had decided to send auditors to Lowell and the mayor called Mr. Higgins' attention to the fact that accountants from the state board of labor and statistics had just completed an examination of the financial books of the city for 1912 and he thought Mr. Higgins might be able to get the necessary information from Chief Gettemy of the state board. Mr. Higgins did not know that Gettemy's men had been in Lowell and he said he would consult with him.

It seems that Mr. Gettemy's report did not quite fill the bill, because it did not include the unpaid bills of the street department for 1912, and the district attorney then decided to send his auditors here. The auditors were expected to arrive yesterday, but did not put in an appearance until this morning.

James Hall in Charge

James W. Hall, C. P. A., will have charge of the work here and will have two assistants. Mr. Hall has offices at 53 State street, Boston, and is resident manager for The American Audit company.

Mr. Hall was seen by The Sun reporter at city hall and, after finding out that the reporter knew that the audit was on, said: "Yes, we were employed by the district attorney to come here and examine the books in connection with the charges made against a commissioner for exceeding his appropriation."

"Are you going over all the books, or just the street department books for 1912?" asked the reporter. "We will go over all the books of all the departments," said Mr. Hall, "in order to determine whether or not the charges or counter charges have any foundation in fact. We will then submit our report to the district attorney."

Mr. Hall was asked if his company was a sort of detective audit company. "No indeed," he replied. "The American Audit company does all kinds of work, but it is true that we do make a specialty of municipal work."

Asked how long it would take to complete his work in this city, Mr. Hall said it would be impossible to tell.

A. P. MANAGER AT LOBBY INQUIRY

Melville E. Stone Tells of News
Filed Over Wires About Beet
Sugar Industry

WASHINGTON, June 19.—The hearing of the senate lobby investigating committee today was taken up with the testimony of Melville E. Stone, general manager of the Associated Press, regarding certain news matter filed over the association's wires about the beet sugar industry.

Mr. Stone referred to a letter received by him from C. C. Hamlin, a beet sugar man of Colorado Springs, in which Hamlin declared that the beet sugar interests had not received from the Associated Press the same amount of attention as was accorded the cane sugar interests.

In testifying, Mr. Stone stated that his intention was only to show that the Associated Press was impartial in its dissemination of news.

Mr. Hamlin's letter was: "I am writing you as chairman of the United States beet sugar industry, an organization which includes practically all of the beet sugar interests of this country and if anything further is necessary to give that industry any say credit I want to refer you to any of the papers in Denver as well as to Senator Guggenbach and Senators Clark and Warren of Wyoming. Also to Mr. Chester Morey of Denver, president of the Great Western Sugar Co., the largest beet sugar producer in the United States with whom you are personally acquainted."

"I might add I am a member of the Associated Press, representing the Herald-Telegraph of this city."

"Publicity is the last thing I wish to seek personally but in justice to the great industry which I represent I feel justified in taking up with you in person a matter which to me is one of the gravest importance. On October 27, Mr. John Archibute of Archibute Bros. gave out a statement which was printed in full in every Associated Press newspaper of the United States concerning the sugar situation. A copy of this statement is attached hereto. The matters contained in this statement were of such great importance and some of the misrepresentation so gross that I did not feel that these statements should go unchallenged."

"I took the matter up with the local representative of the Associated Press, who followed it through the ordinary channels and was assured that the Associated Press would handle six hundred and fifty words' representation of the beet sugar men's position on these questions. This statement I prepared, and you will find a copy hereto attached. This is from the Denver Republican, the Colorado papers having handled it in full. The manner in which it was handled will be disclosed by the attached clipping from the Washington Post of Oct. 16."

"Your long experience in newspaper work will cause you to see immediately ly that we would be much better satisfied if the Associated Press refused to handle it entirely rather than have it published in this abbreviated and wholly unsatisfactory manner."

"Of course I understand the Associated Press is in no sense partisan and aims to be wholly fair to all of the great interests of the country and all that they receive the same treatment at the hands of your association as is accorded to certain industries in New York who are pushing the free sugar propaganda with the avowed purpose of at least putting a stop to the growth of the beet sugar industry."

"We certainly have no desire to burden the Associated Press with matter put out for the purpose of 'boosting' our industry but when attacked feel that we should be given as much publicity as is given to our opponents. At least we would like to know what our status is so far as your association is concerned. Of course there may be something in the character of the statement given out for the purpose of preventing its acceptance in full and if so you will be doing me a distinct favor by advising me in what respect this is true. Trusting you will give this serious personal consideration and thanking you in advance for anything you may be able to do in the direction of according justice to so large an industry, I am

HORSE TRADER FOOLED

Gave Horse and Bonus
for Stolen Animal

DR. KEENE OF FITCHBURG REPORTED LOSS

Local Police Soon Found Horse Which
Was Traded to Mr. Wiggin of Derry,
N. H.

The local police today located a valuable horse which was stolen from Dr. A. C. Keene of Fitchburg late yesterday afternoon. The recovery of the stolen animal came about through the efforts of Inspector Walsh, who was detailed on the case, and Officer Danley.

Immediately upon being notified by the Fitchburg police of the theft, the inspector was sent out on the quest of the missing animal and inside of an hour, with the help of Officer Ganley, had located the horse. The stolen equine was standing in a stall in the stable of John P. Donlon, located at 55 Franklin street, and had been there for several hours.

It was learned that a man by the name of Henry Wiggin of East Derry, N. H., had left the horse at the stable and steps were taken at once to get in touch with Mr. Wiggin. Mr. Wiggin, as much publicity as is given to our opponents. At least we would like to know what our status is so far as your association is concerned. Of course there may be something in the character of the statement given out for the purpose of preventing its acceptance in full and if so you will be doing me a distinct favor by advising me in what respect this is true. REPLACE BALL SIGNALS
BOSTON, June 19.—The system of ball signals that has been governing the movements of railroad trains must be replaced by July 1, 1914, by a more dependable system, wherever the former is in use in this state. This is the order of the Massachusetts board of railroad commissioners issued today. Broadly stated, the ball signals system relies more on what railroad men call the "human element" than does the interlocking arrangement where switches and signals work together automatically.

In a memorandum accompanying the order, the commissioners state that "ball signals" were responsible for the collision of trains at South Lawrence on June 3. The Boston & Maine R. R. Co. is directed to install at South Lawrence an interlocking signal system that will be approved by the commissioners.

ONE MORE REMOVED TO THE PEST HOUSE

Case Under Observation Proves
Positive—Smallpox a Repeater
—Not a One Time Disease

The board of health had another case of smallpox reported late yesterday afternoon, but it was not in every sense a new case inasmuch as it was down on the books as "under observation." The case was that of Andrew Lavole, aged 12 years. His home is at 255 Cheever street. Dr. McAvinue, reported the case as suspicious. Later he made a more careful diagnosis and he was then satisfied that the boy had smallpox. Dr. Livingston, expert for the board of health, was called in and his diagnosis agreed with that of Dr. McAvinue.

The boy was taken sick June 14. He was then attending St. Joseph's college. His father and mother work in the Tremont & Suffolk mills. There are four children in the family and none of them was ever vaccinated until yesterday. Andrew will be removed to the smallpox hospital in Chelmsford street.

Unsuccessful Vaccinations
The question of unsuccessful vaccinations was discussed at city hall today and it was brought out that while some doctors, a majority of them perhaps, give children a certificate of vaccination admitting them to school immediately upon vaccinating them, for the first time the board of health requires that the person vaccinated shall

LAWRENCE STRIKE FUND CASE

Judge Braley of Supreme Court
Reserved Decision But Consents
to Report Matter

BOSTON, June 19.—Judge Braley of the supreme court, after a hearing on the adoption of a final decree in the Lawrence strike fund case, today reserved his decision, but consented to report the matter to the full court, if so requested by counsel for the respondents. Joseph Bedard, William Yates, William Trautman and Joseph Shaldeen, the trustees. The attorney-general sought to have the four respondents held personally responsible for the $12,650, which is alleged was paid out of the fund for purposes other than the relief to the strikers, the ostensible purpose of its collection. John E. Lynch, for the four strike leaders who acted as trustees, said that the total amount raised for the benefit of the strikers was for various purposes and that the master who examined the case had been unable to determine what part was contributed for relief which alone would constitute a public charitable trust. Mr. Lynch also stated that Yates and Trautman acted at times as chairman and book-keeper respectively of the strike committee.

In taking the matter under advisement Judge Braley said that the burden was upon the respondents to show how much of the fund was contributed for general purposes and how much for relief. Unless such a distinction was shown the respondents might be charged with the whole thing.

WOMAN ARRESTED

Officer Foye Brought Her From Belle Grove to the Lovell Station This Afternoon

Officer Foye of Dracut brought a "lady" prisoner in on an electric from Belle Grove this afternoon and a couple of fellows in Prescott street, who did not know Mr. Foye was an officer, were arrested. The man in the case, however, had made his escape before the officer arrived and the officer had to take the escaped one's place for the time being. The woman was considerably under the influence of liquor and did not offer any argument when told that she was being booked for drunkenness.

Officer Foye said that the woman had been in the company of a man at Belle Grove during the forenoon and that persons who had witnessed their actions and considered them obnoxious had telephoned to him to come and arrest them. The man in the case, however, had made his escape before the officer arrived and the officer had to take the escaped one's place for the time being. The woman was considerably under the influence of liquor and did not offer any argument when told that she was being booked for drunkenness.

This will be done in any home, whether the house is wired for electric lights or not.

There may be some houses so far away from our lines that this will be impossible, but Inquiry should be made in every case, at the office of the Lowell Electric Light Corp., 50 Central Street.

OVERRIDE 9 IN 11 VETO

Carmen's Bill Wins in the House 175 to 43

BOSTON, June 18.—The veto of the 9-in-11-hour bill for street carmen was overridden in the House yesterday by a vote of 175 to 43, and in the presence of about 700 carmen, who filled the galleries and watched the bill go on.

The bill goes to the Senate on Friday and it is said that the vote is close out of a full Senate of 80 men. It will take 44 to pass the bill to become law.

Veto Received.
The governor's veto of the bill was received in the morning. An attempt to postpone it until Friday failed. The governor referred to the 9-in-11 bill of last year and said that the company had not yet been able to adjust its business to that law. It is generally believed that the bill was not a health measure, inasmuch as it permits a man to work more than nine hours in every 11 hours.

WOMAN FEELS 10 YEARS YOUNGER

Since Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health.

Louisville, Ky.—"I take great pleasure in writing to inform you of what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I was weak, nervous, and cared for nothing but sleep. Now I can go ahead with my work daily and feel ten years younger than before I started taking your medicine. I will advise any woman to consult with you before going to a doctor."—Mrs. J. W. WILSON, 2229 Bank St., Louisville, Ky.

Another Sufferer Relieved.
Romey, Texas.—"I suffered terribly with a displacement and bladder trouble. I was in misery all the time and could not walk any distance. I thought I never could be cured, but my mother advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I did. 'I am cured of the displacement and the bladder trouble is relieved. I think the Compound is the finest medicine on earth for suffering women.'"—Mrs. VIOLA JASPER, Romey, Texas.

All our testimonials are guaranteed genuine and truthful. The original of each came to us entirely unsolicited. They are sincere expressions of gratitude for actual benefits received from the medicine.

Attacks Governor Foss.
The House debated the barbers' registration bill, which provides for a board to license barbers. The governor says that this bill operates as an unjust restraint of trade. He was sustained by a vote of 124 to 84. Underhill of Somerville defended the veto. However, the House attached the governor for wage reductions in the governor's shops.

Another Veto Today.
Today there is another veto coming before the House. It is upon the bill to establish a general raise of salary for the district police officials, of whom there are 47. The governor says, as he said in his veto of the bill to raise metropolitan policemen's pay that it is a "very large increase" and does not recognize merit.

A pardon was granted by the governor yesterday for William Kennedy of Danvers, who was sentenced in 1907 to life upon his conviction of an attempt to poison his employer with rough on rats. The evidence was not strong that he had distributed poison.

RANCH BOI COMING.
The Big Wild West Aggregation to Be in Lowell on July 3rd, After an Absence of Two Years.

After an absence of over two years, during which it has successfully toured the United States from coast to coast, Mexico and British Columbia, the Miller Brothers & Appleton's 101 Ranch Wild West show will return to Lowell, Thursday, July 3, the scene of some of its earliest triumphs, and will give two exhibitions on the old Fair Grounds, Gorham street, after-noon at 2, evening at 8.

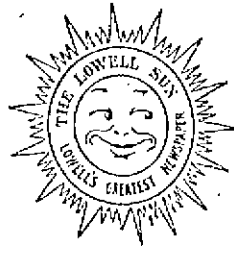

The first tents to go up will be the cook-house and horse tents. The first necessary to provide breakfast for the several hundred employees, and the second is essential to secure the early skinner of the stock. There are hundreds of horses with the show, a herd of buffaloes, and a bunch of long-horned Texas steers. After the stock has been provided for, the big arena with its open amphitheatre and canopy-covered seats, the Indian village with its curious topees, and all the other tents required for the various departments of the show will be erected. One of the most interesting features of the Wild West is the fact that the "performers" do not "make-up" for their parts as in the circus. They appear in the arena in their everyday costumes—clothes which are always striking—just as they dress on the ranch. The first big feature of the entertainment will be the parade. Great floats will tell the story of the early days of the pioneers: Rocky Mountain bluffs, one of the old-time stage-drivers, will again handle the reins of the overland mail; old hunters will revive the memory of the buffalo hunt; there will be an Indian village on wheels, and scores of cowboys, cowgirls, Indians, Mexicans, Cossacks and others. The performances will take place at 2 and 8, but the doors will be open an hour earlier to permit the public to view the Indian village and to hear the concert by La Banca's Military band. An especially varied performance is promised. The exhibition, with two exceptions, is confined entirely to Wild West features. The exceptions are the Cossacks, who give a strenuous exhibition of rough

Rev. I. T. Coolidge in Class of 1838

BOSTON, June 19.—The Rev. James I. T. Coolidge, 95 years old, of the class of '38, Harvard, died last night at 8 o'clock from double pneumonia. He was Harvard's oldest living graduate. Death came to the "old man," who was known and loved by hundreds of Harvard men, while many classes of Crimson graduates were enjoying themselves with dinners in the hotels and clubs of Boston.

The passing of Harvard's "Grand Old Man" was not unexpected, for he had been ill for three weeks at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Walter Deane, 91 Brewster street, Cambridge. Mr. Coolidge also leaves a son, Ellery Channing Coolidge.

With the death of Mr. Coolidge there are now left three representatives of the class of '38, Harvard. They are: Dr. James Lloyd Wellington of Swansea, 36; the Rev. Edward Augustus Benson, S. T. D. of Keene, N. H., 38; and Jacob W. Scoville, who has just passed his 73d birthday.

Dr. Coolidge was born Nov. 1, 1817, at 14 Hancock street, Boston.

TWO PICKED UP DEAD

German Airmen Were Killed Today

BERLIN, June 19.—Two German airmen were killed today at the Johannisthal aerodrome in the suburbs of the capital. Aviator Krafetz, carrying as a passenger a man named Gerbitz had ascended with the intention of making a two hours' flight. There was practically no wind and the airplane was making good speed when it suddenly turned a somersault at a height of a hundred feet, throwing the aviators to the ground, where they were picked up dead.

Merriam Square Theatre.
That the Merriam Square Theatre is "The Greatest Spot in Town" is readily agreed by everyone who has visited this popular amusement place since the warm weather set in. No matter what the weather may be on the outside it is always normal here. The present being given there this week, too, is worthy of your consideration. It includes O'Connell and Gilmour, those clever girls, Jazzy Mathews, who does a few tricks you have never seen before, Lillian Shanny, in the latest illustrated songs and dances, and a few clever whirling dancers. The films which are changed three times a week will be new today showing "The Square of Fate."

Children and the Burros in Glorious California

"One of the happiest remembrances of my youth" wrote a well known man, "is the month I spent in Colorado as a youngster with my burro. Many a joyful hour I had with that creature. He was my best friend. Since then it has always seemed to me that nothing more identical can happen to a boy or girl than to be turned out-of-doors in Colorado with a burro."

It is a fact that nothing can be more beneficial to your children than the out-of-doors life in Colorado. The climate is so splendid and health-giving, and burros are so comfortable and at more reasonable cost than in Colorado.

I'd like to help you decide when and where and how to go. I have all the information here in my office to help you—hotel and boarding-house rates, and a mighty reliable folder on Colorado with maps and pictures and full details. Call or write for this folder and let me tell you about the new low price excursion tickets to Colorado.

SIX LIVES LOST AT SEA

Fishing Schooner Cut in Two by Liner

BOSTON, June 19.—Practically cut in two by the Warren liner Sagamore, the Gloucester fishing schooner Olympia sank off Sable Island early Tuesday morning, with the loss of Captain John A. Daggert of Portland and five of his crew. Eight of the men saved themselves by climbing into the rigging and jumping aboard the steamer as their vessel was rapidly sinking beneath them.

The Sagamore arrived below last night and, to a reporter, who met the liner on a tug, the survivors told a thrilling story of their escape and how Captain Daggert, one of his sons and four other men were called from their bunks only to rush on deck to be swallowed up by the sea.

Another of the captain's sons, Frank L. Daggert, saved himself after a vain effort to assist his father and brother. The Sagamore struck the fishing schooner during a thick fog, and the sailing vessel tilted and went to the bottom a few minutes after she was struck and ripped apart by the transatlantic liner, which was coming from Liverpool to Boston.

The Olympia left Gloucester about a week ago for a pollack trip. She carried a crew of 14 men. The lost men were Captain Daggert, his son, John Loring Daggert of Portland, William Sullivan of Eastport, Me., Balmeys son of the captain, Frank R. Dyer of Portland, Arthur Bennett of Eastport, Me., Michael Flaherty of Gloucester and Newfoundland and Stephen Verge of Gloucester.

HARD CAMPAIGN IS ON

The friends of the Lincoln Grammar and Lowell High schools, as was expected, are falling into line for these worthy contestants with a snap and vim which bodes ill to contemporary workers if they lag a moment in the good work. A large number have sent in their orders for The Sun to be sent to their homes regularly and it goes without saying that these workers are voting in the contest stores, for a coupon clipper is a merchant voter 29 times out of a hundred. The wise worker knows full well that each and every opportunity should be embraced if the same policy is pursued, and you can rest assured the friends of these schools won't overlook the one vote. They are hustlers from the sound of the gong to the last call. Even one hundred is a tremendous army when organized and there is an active bunch out for each of the schools. Remember that the second week the 25 leaders of each class are accepted as the permanent contestants so look out that your favorite is numbered among the favored ones.

The great contest still goes bounding onward and upward, one day suggesting the certainty of leadership for some particular contestant only to be reversed in favor of another the next day, all of which is due to the fact that everybody has the habit. The old saying, "Great, the small are persistently demanding the privilege of voting."

The Sun represents a value that cannot be substituted, for it is teeming with all the best local and national news items.

an automobile driven by John J. Talbot, at the corner of Beacon and Park streets, yesterday afternoon, and was knocked down and probably fatally injured.

At the relief hospital last night Miss Sundberg's condition was critical and it was feared that she would not survive the night. In addition to a fractured skull, she sustained grave internal injuries which will probably prove fatal.

Miss Sundberg has been studying in a nurses' training school. Her mother, Mrs. Matilda Sundberg, makes her home with another daughter, Mrs. Robert J. Keane, at 21 Glade avenue, Jamaica Plain. Upon learning of the accident yesterday, both hurried to the relief hospital and remained during the night. The young woman did not recover consciousness after the automobile wheels passed over her back.

Talbot is a chauffeur employed by the Taxi Service company, the owners of the car. He was arrested and taken to the court square police station and booked on a charge of assault and battery. Officials of the Taxi Service company furnished $3000 bonds for playes.

SCHEME FOR PUBLIC BATHS

MIDDLE STREET BUILDING PROPOSED FOR PUBLIC BATHS

Still in Controversy Between Ald. Cummings and Barrett—What Architects Say

Will a majority of the municipal council favor Ald. Barrett's scheme for public baths at the Central fire station in Palmer street?

This is somewhat of an important question at this time and opinions differ as to the feasibility of Mr. Barrett's proposition. Of course, when it comes to a show down, the baths cannot be installed in the Central fire station unless Commissioner Cummings says that the building can be used for that purpose and Mr. Cummings has already accused Mr. Barrett of going over his head in the matter. Mr. Barrett obtained estimates from outside parties before he broached the subject to Mr. Cummings and the latter, at a recent meeting of the municipal council, told Mr. Barrett that he did not like that way of doing business.

Mayor O'Donnell at yesterday's meeting of the municipal council, went on record as in favor of having estimates of the cost of installing the baths and swimming pool made by architects. He said he was in favor of Mr. Barrett's proposition but he did not believe in Mr. Barrett taking estimates from contractors or carpenters in the fire department. Mr. Barrett had said that the baths and pool could be installed for $13,000 and the mayor allowed if the expense would be as much as that the city could well afford to pay an architect to furnish plans and estimate of cost and have the work done right.

Francis A. Connor, inspector of buildings, says that the baths and pool cannot be installed for $13,000 and that the cost would be considerably more than that. He said the building will have to be reinforced, but Mr. Barrett says that isn't necessary.

The matter will come up at the meeting of the council to be held next Tuesday forenoon and Mr. Cummings will then present estimates prepared in his department. In the meantime the following letters, received by Mr. Cummings from local architects are of interest:

F. W. Stickle's Letter

June 18, 1913.
Mr. Lawrence Cummings, Commissioner, Lowell, Mass.

Dear Sir:—
In regard to your request to me through Mr. Connor, superintendent of public buildings, in regard to the cost of a proposed change in the fire station so as to provide for a public bath.

I wish to state that it will require a great deal of study and research to properly comply with your request. I assume that the city of Lowell will propose to pay for the expert opinion in this particular case, as it would mean careful measurements, questions of heating, lighting, ventilation, etc. I have had some experience in these matters, and know what they cost. An ordinary cement pool will not do. It must be reinforced and lined with some non-absorbent material either Terrazo, tile or enamel brick.

There are many other items of expense which would not perhaps occur to one's mind in making an appropriate estimate. Mr. Connor has informed me today that the expert opinion is not required. Thanking you for your courtesy, I am,

Very truly yours,
F. W. Stickle.

From Henry L. Hourke

Lowell, June 17, 1913.
Mr. Lawrence Cummings, Commissioner of Public Property and Licenses, Lowell, Mass.

Dear Sir:—
Mr. Francis A. Connor, inspector of buildings, requested me to examine the Central fire station and submit a report to you by Wednesday of this week, showing prepared sketches and estimates for the alteration of building for a public bath.

I looked over the building with Mr. Connor on Monday of this week and I feel that I cannot submit a report to you by that date as I would want to give the matter thorough consideration and would want more time before making a report to you on the cost for the alteration of building.

Sincerely yours,
Henry L. Hourke.

Architect Harry Prescott Graves was also consulted in the matter and, in a letter to Commissioner Cummings, stated that it would be absolutely impossible for him to conceive an intelligent idea on the matter in so short a time. Mr. Graves said: "I am perfectly willing to take up the matter and give you my best judgment provided the time for the submission of this opinion can be extended. I find that it will take considerable research and minute examination of the buildings and will involve considerable time for which, of course, I expect to be compensated."

"GOD BLESS YOU," SAID WIFE

To Judge Enright on Deciding Her Husband Should Contribute to Her Support

Charles Liversey was again in court this morning, charged by his wife with non-support. The defendant is a rather feeble old man who lives in a small camp in Dracont on the banks of the Merrimack river. He raises what vegetables he uses and earns a week, he informed Judge Enright this morning. His wife asserted, however, that her husband should be made to support her. "Why don't you live with your husband?" inquired the court. "Because I refuse to leave my crippled son," replied the complainant, "and besides I couldn't live in that old place anyway." The court took a few minutes' time to go over the facts in the case and then asked the woman what she could get along on. "Your Honor," said the complainant, "I want to show that man that he has got to support his wife. I only get a few cents a week from him."

"This is no spite case," affirmed Judge Enright, "and this case will not be settled in that manner. Order the defendant to pay $2 every week to the probation officer, Mr. Clerk, for the maintenance of his wife. 'God bless you,' fervently ejaculated Mrs. Liversey as the court rendered its decision. Cornelius F. Coughlin made a very earnest plea to have his case placed upon file or at least a suspended sentence imposed, but the court did not feel justified in letting the defendant off so lightly. Coughlin was already under a suspended sentence for drunkenness; the same charge which rested against his name this morning, and the suspension was simply lifted. He was sent up to the house of correction for a term of six months. Amos C. Marshall was sent to jail for a period of two months for drunkenness.

A youth was charged with drunkenness and the larceny of $1.50 and pleaded guilty to both charges. The drunkenness charge was ordered placed on file but he received a $20 fine for larceny. He took the money from two girls and ran away. He was fortunate to escape without a sentence and got a severe lecture from Judge Enright.

The case of Peter Contos and Athanasios Geanacopoulos, accused of threatening a fellow countryman, was continued upon petition of the prosecution, until one week from today. There were three $2 drunks and six releases by Probation Officer Slattery.

TURN IN LOBBY INQUIRY

Committee to Subpoena
Judge Lovett

WASHINGTON, June 19.—The senate's lobby investigation reached out into new fields yesterday when the senate, acting on a resolution presented by Senator Norris, ordered the Overman committee to subpoena Judge Robert S. Lovett, chairman of the board of directors of the Union Pacific railroad, to explain a published statement credited to him in New York that lobbyists had sought to secure employment from the Union Pacific on the ground that they would be able to influence a settlement of the Union Pacific-Southern Pacific dispute.

solution case in Washington. Earlier in the day the committee had made public, over the protests of a lawyer representing Henry T. Ornard and Truman G. Palmer, a series of letters written by these two beet sugar representatives showing a long continued effort to influence legislation in Washington; to control congressional committees; and to direct national political affairs in support of the continuance of a protective sugar tariff. Chairman Overman had not determined last night whether a railroad phase of the investigation would be opened. A summons was sent yesterday to Charles B. Warren of Detroit, president of the Michigan Sugar company and one of the men to whom many of the Hamilton letters, produced yesterday, were addressed. Mr. Warren was asked to appear before the committee tomorrow, and it is expected he will be asked for more details of the beet sugar publicity campaign.

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT ST. MARGARET'S ANNUAL LAWN PARTY—MARATHON RACE ON COMMON

REV. CHARLES GALLIGAN,
Pastor.

GEORGE P. GREEN,
Treasurer.

FRANK W. FOYE,
General Manager.

The numerous enjoyable events, carefully arranged and most successfully carried out, the extremely large gathering of patrons, excellent music, and the ideal condition of the weather all combined in making the annual lawn party of St. Margaret's parish, held at the Kaslo grounds in Thorn-dike street last evening a most de-lightful and successful event. It was estimated that during the afternoon and evening the number of people who were present at the entertainment was in the vicinity of two thousand, and it is certain that everyone was pleased. No little credit is due the officers and members of the committee in charge of the affair for the capable manner in which they handled the arrangements.

The afternoon was devoted to the little ones of the parish, with a list of sports and other entertainment. The results of the various contests were as follows: Potato race, 1st prize, Lawrence Condon; 2nd prize, Edward Murphy; obstacle race, 1st, Charles Rogers; 2nd, Henry Garrity; egg race for girls, 1st, Esther Libby; 2nd, Esther Kenny; girls' backward race, won by Mildred McOsker; three legs race, won by Wilfred Mann and Edward Kane. Suitable prizes were awarded to the winners.

Another feature of the afternoon was a pageant of nations by the children, for which they were capably trained by Miss Blanche Perlin. There was a procession representing the costumes of the children being well gotten up, and then there were also several dances of the nations, all prettily executed. The following children took part in the pageant:

Harry McDermott, Henry Reynolds, Heland Greene, Herbert Vancouver, George Conley, Thomas Carroll, Paul Flannigan, Ireland; Helen Barrett, Blanche Cummings, Elizabeth Greene, Elmer Burns, Bertha Barrett, Mary Twohey, Alice Corkery, Julia Fiske, Helen Muldoon, James Barrett, John Cheney, John Murphy, George Carr, George Conley, George Green, Chester Laflamme, John Sullivan, Charles Cox, China; Philip Connelley, Edward Cox, Francis, Ernest Lorraine, Robert Cox, Francis, Herbert Corkery, Walter O'Brien, Scotland; Mary Connors, Alice Connelly, Helen Walker, Louise Harrigan, Madeline Connelley, Marie Reynolds, Lil-lan Warren, Margaret Ryan, Eileen Green, Alice Fraser, Helen Coughlin, Evelyn Cox, Alice Burns, England; Alice Hasty, Helen Kier, Edith Dubey, Michael McOsker, William Walsh, Wil-liam Connelly, Joseph Burns, Robert Morrissey, Thomas Connelly, Germany; Huberta Johnson, Anna Lawler, Mary McMillan, Lillian McManus, Ethel Howard, Edw. Schönberg Won Marathon Race

Eric Schönberg, a Finnlander, in this country but a short time, who has recently sprung into prominence in local running circles by his remarkable per-formance against the best millers of Lowell on Memorial Day, was the win-ner by a good margin in the marathon race which started at seven o'clock in front of the Kaslo entrance. The course comprised five laps about the entire South common, a distance of ap-proximately 5 miles, including one long up-hill grind on South street. Schön-berg was a general favorite in this race. His time was 25 minutes and 4 seconds.

There were ten entries. Eric Schön-berg, Joe Christo, George Goddard, Jay Carr, William Salmon, Fred Couture, C. B. Boyes, Clement Hartman, George Nelson and Nelson P. Dickey. Goddard who was the winner of the five mile event at the South common on May 19, was also picked to finish among the leaders. The streets and common near the Kaslo were thronged with spectators who persisted in blocking the course, and the members of the po-lice force who were on duty merited commendation for their work in pre-serving order. The runners lined up in front of the Kaslo entrance and the Hon. Mayor James E. O'Donnell, the official starter, fired the pistol which released them; the great race was on.

At the first corner, Thorn-dike and Summer street, Goddard and Christo took the lead, running shoulder to shoulder with the others bunched about them. At the end of the first lap they were still in first and second places respectively, with Carr third and Schönberg fourth, running easily. The others were beginning to string out along the course. In the second lap, Dickey was taken with a sharp pain in his side and was forced to leave the track. He was cheered for his had run well and looked promising. The position of the runners in this lap remained for the most part unchanged, except for the fact that Couture ran ahead of Carr and Salmon, the old-timer was among the last of the com-petitors. Schönberg still held in, ap-parently running with no effort. He was cheered at every appearance. Christo and Goddard alternated in holding the lead. The third lap saw Christo, Goddard, Couture, Schönberg and Carr still the first five. In the fourth, things began to change for Schönberg sped ahead of the others and began acquiring a substantial lead. Christo and Goddard undertook to follow the race set, but it was too much for them. Couture also, who had been trailing in fourth place, gained considerable. As they came around for the last lap, the Finn was leading by about fifty yards. Christo and Goddard closely bunched and Carr fifth. But in about the middle of the lap, Couture began to creep up, and in a short time passed Christo and Goddard, taking second position in the procession and running well. Schönberg finished first by a good fifty or sixty yards, and was greeted by a madly cheering crowd at the finishing line. His finish was remarkably strong after the hard grind. His time was 25 minutes, 4 seconds, which is considered good. Couture was second and closely following him were Christo and Goddard, the former about a foot ahead of his running mate. Carr came in a good fifth but had to be carried to the dressing room. Everyone agreed that it had been a wonderfully good contest and one of the best that has been seen in Lowell for some time. Schönberg is due to be a star in the long distance events if rightly handled.

The prizes were awarded the winners in the Kaslo during the evening, and consisted of first, suit of clothes; sec-ond, dress suit case; third, pair of shoes; fourth, umbrella; fifth, bat. All of the prizes were high priced and of the best quality. The runners were cheered enthusiastically as they came forward at the call of Frank Foye. The donors of the prizes were Mayor O'Donnell, Commissioners Donnelly and Cummings and James Miskella.

The judges in the race were George M. Harrigan, and members of the local press. Martin Flaherty was clerk, of the course, and had general charge of the runners. James McCarthy was timer. Mayor O'Donnell starter, and John Condon, referee.

J. Nichols, 65 Gates street, won the prize of a ticket to Washington and return and the baseball season ticket was awarded to Cecelia Kinney, 74 Westford street.

Shortly after eight o'clock the page-ant of nations was repeated and was highly commended by all who wit-nessed it. The little folks received en-thusiastic applause. Following this general dancing was begun and con-cluded to midnight. The officers of the evening were as follows:

Frank Foye, general manager; Owen McNayr, assistant general manager; George P. Green, treasurer; Jas. Mc-Dermott, William Riley, Thomas Bo-land, Rufus Flood and John Keyes, aids.

Mrs. Daniel C. Donovan, chairman of the ladies' committee; Mrs. Mar-garet Bagshaw, financial secretary; Leo Calnin, charge of dancing; Wil-liam Whitston, chairman of the sport-ing committee; John Condon, Henry Driscoll, James McCarthy and James Morrison assistants.

4000 HORSES COMPETE

International Horse Show
at Olympic

LONDON, June 19.—The outstanding feature of this year's international horshow at Olympic which opened to-day with over 1000 entries and 111 classes, is the riding and jumping competition for the King Edward gold cup for teams of three officers represent-ing the armies of the various na-tions. The American army is unrep-resented on this occasion but the keen-est rivalry exists among the seven other entries—France, Great Britain, Canada, Belgium, Italy, Russia and Sweden. The trophy is competed for by officers in uniform. They have to go twice around the course jumping obstacles of various sorts ranging in height from three feet, six inches to five feet, six inches. In the other competitions American horses are not quite so numerous as in former years. Judge W. H. Moore of New York is one of the largest exhibitors, with about 40 carriages and coaches, while one of his closest rivals is Miss Mona Dunn, the 24 year old daughter of a prominent member of the Canadian colony, who has entered a string of 35 horses.

A new American competitor is Ed-ward B. McLean of Washington with a stable of eight horses, which have been insured for $150,000.

A Summer Draper of Boston also is a leading exhibitor and others are Al-fred G. Vanderbilt and Walter Win-ans. Other exhibitors from across the Atlantic are the honorable Adam Beck, the Hon. Clifton Sifton and F. H. Lou-don from Canada.

Tewksbury School Graduation

The graduation exercises of the North Tewksbury grammar school were held last night in the school and the cosy building was filled with the parents and friends of the graduation class. There were four graduates who will enter the Lowell High school in the fall. The names are: Mildred Baker, Esther Bennett, Jean Cameron and Elsie Van Deusen. Mr. Solon W. Stevens addressed the class and their friends and his talk was very inter-esting.

15 of 20 Shots Fired From Frisco Mor-tar Battery Defences Struck Target Five and a Half Miles Out at Sea

SAN FRANCISCO, June 19.—Fifteen of the 20 shots fired from one of San Francisco's mortar battery defences last night struck a target five and a half miles out at sea. For night practice this is regarded as an unusual record.

CAUSE OF EXPLOSION

Board of Inquiry Reports That Ac-cident at Fort Moultrie Was Due to Friction Pin Striking Cartridge

WASHINGTON, June 19.—The recent explosion of a four inch coast de-fence gun at Fort Moultrie near Charleston, S. C. was caused by the point of the firing pin striking the cartridge before the breech block was locked, according to a report by a board of inquiry which investigated the explosion. The accident resulted in the deaths of Captain Guy E. Han-na, 16th coast artillery corps and two privates while nine privates were wounded.

The condition which caused the dis-aster is said to have been one that could not easily have been observed.

NORTH CHELMSFORD

The annual lawn party of Court Wapman, 171, M. C. O. P. was held last evening on the grounds of St. John's hall, Quigley avenue. The place was illuminated with numerous Japa-nese lanterns and otherwise beauti-fully decorated. Alongside the building were tables containing various good things for sale and all were well pat-ronized.

There were many and various re-sources for amusement, including slide shows, sports of a new original character, fortune tellers, magicians, and dancing. Everybody enjoyed the even-ing to its fullest and the attendance was very large, and the affair was a marked success.

CLEAN UP MADE OBLIGATORY

Such special clean up campaigns as that waged here recently are very good in their way, but unless they outline a course of conduct for the future they are of no lasting good. If they are followed by a natural reaction and carelessness on the part of the authorities they simply defeat their own purpose. It is therefore gratifying to see that Chief Saunders of the fire department and Superintendent Welch of the police department have got together to enforce the city ordinance which provides for the removal of combustible refuse from yards, alleys and cellars.

The plan decided on by the heads of the departments is practical and, if followed, ought to be found adequate. It provides for a regular inspection of all parts of the city by the firemen of the respective districts, and those who may be found offending and who refuse to remedy the matter after having their attention drawn to it by the firemen are to be turned over to the police department, which has the authority to enforce the city regulations. It has thus been made impossible for negligent property owners to evade the city ordinance, and it is to be hoped that the effective and feasible plan will be followed to the letter. We have long been in need of such a scheme of general supervision in this matter, and it ought to be taken in earnest by both departments. Once they so regard it, it will not be difficult to teach the people that the city is determined to wipe out the unnecessary abuse of dirty and unsanitary yards, alleys and homes—although many dirty homes will flourish despite the most prohibitive regulations.

Those citizens who have been neglectful in this most important matter up to the present time will do well in anticipating the visit of the representative of the fire department, to clean up before they are compelled to do so. One-half hour spent methodically and regularly will accomplish wonders, and the habit of cleanliness whether in person or property is one that will have an immediate effect for good on those most intimately concerned, on the health of the people, and on the general appearance of the city.

THE IPSWICH MURDER

The murder trials arising from the death of an Italian woman during the Lawrence strike riots are still fresh enough in our memory to convince us that no good can come from holding some of the strike leaders in Ipswich for the murder of a Greek woman there under similar circumstances. Even though it were clear that those leaders were morally responsible for the crime, the courts cannot have a very clear perception of the extent of their guilt under the law, and holding them in jail is merely playing into the hands of those who turn the the arrest and imprisonment of strike leaders to their advantage. Probably no other incident drew more converts to I. W. W. doctrines throughout the Lawrence strike than the trial and subsequent vindication of Etter and his associates.

However one may dislike the propaganda of those who managed the Lawrence and Ipswich strikes, it seems a far-fetched proceeding to arrest any of the Ipswich murder except the person who wielded the revolver from which the fatal shot was fired. Even though the riot was the result of incendiary doctrines taught by the imprisoned leaders, the crime of murder cannot be laid to their charge before the law, even though in reality they may be indirectly responsible. It is safe to predict that the leaders will not be convicted of murder, and a long imprisonment followed by release will only draw to them the sympathy of the unthinking masses who are swayed by passions and prejudice rather than reason.

Although the arrest of strike leaders may be followed by a temporary calm, the passions of those who were inflamed by the violent speeches will still smolder, and the flames that break out after a long smoldering process are not so easily extinguished as those that flare up at the beginning of the conflagration. It is the duty of the American people to teach a lesson to foreigners that the law is their protector instead of their enemy and this will not be done by arrests that cannot be followed by conviction. On the contrary it gives color to their suspicion that the law is pitted against them whether they are right or wrong. A much better policy would be to drive out the professional leaders whose business it is to sow the seeds of discord and revolution wherever they can.

COASTWISE SHIPPING

The report of Chairman Alexander of the house ship trust investigating committee at Washington bears out the contention of those who have argued against the exemption of American coastwise shipping from Panama canal tolls on the ground that to do so would only tend to foster domestic monopoly. He avers that the committee discovered thirty methods of regulating domestic rates so that there would be practically no competition. To quote his own words: "Practically all the lines serving both the Atlantic and the Pacific seaboard of the United States are members of conferences or work in co-operation through written agreements of oral understandings."

This revelation is a reflection on the wisdom of refusing to renew the expired treaty with Great Britain, or refusing to submit the Panama canal tolls question to arbitration. If the question were arbitrated and decided in favor of America, it is evident that the coastwise shipping would have to be changed somewhat before the exemption would prove of any benefit to the American people. If decided against us it would be more in accordance with our national honor, and more of a benefit than a hardship, according to the findings of the government investigating committee.

A PRETTY ROMANCE

A news item tells us that the ex-wife of Upton Sinclair, the socialist author who attracted wide attention by the publication of "The Jungle" some years ago, and later by his matrimonial troubles, is to be married again. This is neither uncommon enough or startling enough to attract special attention were it not that the affair is described as "a pretty romance." A pretty sickening romance would be a truer if less elegant description. We are told that the romantic lady who had very pronounced views on "soul mates" a few years ago went to recuperate at a sanatorium because of nervous prostration—due probably to the shock of the divorce. There she met a gallant young man who was undergoing treatment for a like ailment. All ye true lovers attend to what is to follow: They fell in love at first sight. This, somehow, has a familiar ring, but instead of the moonlit waves, or the garden of the chateau, or the latticed bower, or the shady wood with the cooling doves and the setting sun, we have the grossly modern sanatorium, the divorce, the shattered nerves, and the pseudo-sentimentality. Truly, it is indeed a pretty crude romance.

THE SMALLPOX SCARE

The smallpox scare—which by the way has proved itself to be more than a scare—has had one very interesting aspect, and that is the fact that most of the parents of those afflicted professed ignorance of the real nature of the disease. If this ignorance was real, it is a proof that some people will take grave chances in sickness before calling in a doctor; if it was feigned, it proves that many are swayed by a false sense of loyalty. Whether the Lowell epidemic is due to ignorance or a terrible negligence cannot be determined as yet, but considering the circumstances we have every reason to be glad that the effect has not been far more serious. As the matter stands we would be confronted with a far more ominous situation were it not for the vigilance and splendid activity of the board of health.

THE PHILIPPINE QUESTION

If the views of the secretary of the navy can be taken for the views of the administration, his speech in Charlestown on Monday evening proved that the much discussed Philippine question is not being ignored, and will be met as soon as the more pressing domestic matters are settled. How it will be ultimately decided cannot be guessed from his allusion, but his views as secretary of the navy carry a great deal more weight than those of any other American citizen with the possible exception of President Wilson. The extract is as follows:

"The United States should not have armies for conquest, and when this country embarks upon colonialism it embarks upon a dangerous sea, contrary to the spirit and purpose of this republic. When the country embarks on colonialism in the Philippine islands, on a policy of treating people as if they were slaves, I feel that they were forging a war chain in our republic."

DANCE HALL LICENSES

Undoubtedly before granting licenses to dance halls the licensing committee does all in its power to see that a license to dance is not interpreted as a permit under which vagrancy, immorality, and indecency can parade unabashed. If not, it undertakes a grave responsibility, but it does not render the situation hopeless. There is still room for the vigilance of the owner or proprietor of such an establishment, and the police department. The dance hall where immodest dances are tolerated after receiving the sanction of all three governing powers is a reflection on the entire city as well as a menace to public morality.

Seen and Heard

The framing of an opinion by one in the position of city solicitor affords splendid opportunity for elegant display of legal verbiage. The language of the average solicitor, in opinion submitted, is very often too copious for the diminutive comprehension of the layman. We note in a recent opinion in the language: "Insuring an expedition mobility of conducting the affairs of the city." If this isn't a superfluity of verbiage, what is it?

What is John B. Clancy's standing as a lawyer? A Dutch room habitation asked the question on the evening of the day that John B. so ably (?) conducted his own case in police court. He was charged with maintaining a stable without a license, and John Clancy, of several yards of original argument, and then asked for a continuance that he might be afforded the opportunity to brush up on a few "fine points" in order that he might "put something over on the squires" meaning the city solicitor. The habitation's question, proposed considerably argued, and John ejaculated one of the number, "John B. has had considerable experience as a lawyer. Only this afternoon I was in the library looking over some old newspaper files and in October, 1881, I noticed a great big article on the front page and it was all about John B. Clancy conducting his own case in court. That very evening, strange to relate, I picked up the evening paper and the headlines over the story about Mr. Clancy arguing his own case in court, were identical with the words captioning the article which I had read in the October, 1881, paper."

To Grow Hair on A Bald Head

BY A SPECIALIST

Thousands of people suffer from baldness and falling hair who, having tried nearly every advertised hair tonic and hair-grower without results, have resigned themselves to baldness and its attendant discomfort. Yet their case is not hopeless; the following simple home prescription has made hair grow after years of baldness, and is also unequalled for restoring gray hair to its original color, stopping hair from falling out, and destroying the dandruff germ. It will not make the hair greasy, and can be put up by any druggist: Bay Rum, 6 ounces; Lavender Compound, 2 ounces; Menthol Crystals, one-half ounce. If you wish it perfumed, add half to one teaspoonful of To-Kalon Perfume, which unites perfectly with the other ingredients. This preparation is highly recommended by physicians and specialists, and is absolutely harmless, as it contains none of the poisonous wood alcohol so frequently found in hair tonics.

Druggists have been called upon so frequently to mix a hair tonic, according to the famous formula above mentioned, that druggists, both in America and Europe, are now having it compounded at laboratories in New York, London and Paris, and sell it freely for immediate use) under the name of Lavona Compound. Sold on the satisfaction guaranteed or money back plan.

"Absolutely true," replied the man with the story.

"Then, all I have to say," said Old Man Skeptic, "is that John B. has had mighty poor counsel during all these years."

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The Lobby

Lewis and Clark: President Wilson has started a struggle that promises the most precious step ahead since the Civil war. It will restore congress to its rightful position, the position of real legislation. If it was patriotism to stand by President Lincoln in the terrible struggle he was forced into, it is no less patriotic to stand by President Wilson in the momentous struggle he has forced against the lobby. Slavery, as it was called, was not a more pernicious enemy—not so slick insidious an enemy—of the republic as is the lobby today.

Farmers' Banks

Lawrence American: President Wilson is understood to be deeply interested in the scheme for farmers' banks, whereby farmers will be enabled to secure loans on growing crops, which calls to mind the fact that President Taft made serious efforts during the latter part of his administration to establish such banks. In this day when the encouragement of agriculture is of the utmost importance such a scheme appears feasible. European countries have worked out the plan successfully, and there is no good reason why it cannot be done in the United States.

The New Haven Wreck

Portland Express: The New Haven railroad seems to be playing in unusually hard luck, particularly in the vicinity of Bridgeport. Yesterday's disaster was the second of a serious nature within the past eight months. For that matter nearly all of its many accidents of comparatively recent date have occurred within a small radius. This latest railway horror rather explodes the theory many entertain that the rear car of the train is the safest. It is rarely, too, that parlor car passengers are the worst sufferers as in this case. Apparently wherever the human element must play a part there is no such thing as absolute safety anywhere.

Think It Over

Poster's Democrat: A man in Chicago is puzzled about family relationship because his father-in-law has just married his sister. "As near as I can figure it," he says, "that makes her my mother-in-law as well as my sister, and my father-in-law my brother-in-law as well then my wife is my sister-in-law and my wife at the same time; and if there should be children in both families, what relation would I be to them, and, worse than that, what relation would they be to each other?" Here are some interesting questions for the Genealogical society.

Trees

Lawrence Telegram: Not only do city people have to battle hard nowadays against all kinds of insect enemies of such trees as still grace their streets and parks, but they have a fight against those who in the name of improvement would ruthlessly cut down all the trees that lie in their path.

Automobile Accidents

Salem News: The automobile has had a wonderful development. Great as have been the advances, a larger expansion is yet in store. This fact must be taken into account in dwelling upon the proper use of the highway. Restrictions in the auto field there must be. There are as essential to the protection of the public as they are legitimately to be called for in the interest of drivers. But the autoists must not be left to monopolize all the care, exercise all the prudence, and adopt all the precautions. The public has its part to play in a reciprocal movement. In this cooperation, as we have already hinted, special obligations rest upon parents to impress upon their children the cultivation of care when away from home, to the end that the leopard of vehicular traffic may be avoided. With this concert of action, it would be reasonable to look, within due time, for a very welcome subsidence in the volume of street accidents.

The Turk

Lewis and Clark: Among other nations many great events. The last is the giving the Turk out of Europe. Which was not more incredible than the good understanding reached five or six years before between England and Russia. It was England and Russia. It cannot be forgotten, whose century-long rivalry and antagonism made it impossible to do for the Turk in Europe before.

Commencement Day

Manchester Mirror: The American people make great sacrifices to educate their children. The only night school consumed nowadays is what the parents burn in earning the tuition fees. For the children it is a history of pleasant work, exhilarating social life, thrilling athletics. It looks like one land of holiday when commencement day rings down the final curtain that the leopard of vehicular traffic may be avoided. With this concert of action, it would be reasonable to look, within due time, for a very welcome subsidence in the volume of street accidents.

No cloud of doubt obscures the graduate's view of the future. American friendliness to education has so far removed the rocks from the way. Who can doubt that the pilgrim path yet to be trod will be equally smooth? Who would speak his doubts if he has them?

Your Wife

Lawrence Sun: It is because there are so many average wives around the country that we do not despair when we see and read so much of other kinds. They may be unchronicled, unquoted and unsung. They are, nevertheless, the feminine salt of the earth. The vote may be in due time the thrust upon them, but it will not spoil them. They will never neglect the kitchen, care, exercise all the prudence, and adopt all the precautions. The public

THIS YEAR'S ENGLISH DERBY, DUE TO MANY CIRCUMSTANCES, WILL ALWAYS BE REMEMBERED

HARVARD WINS IN 14TH GRAYS LOSE 3 IN ROW

Live Bits of Sport

Manager Pieper certainly has a versatile bunch of ball players in his Lawrence club. Yesterday Lyster, the right fielder, and Pitcher Pearson exchanged places. Lyster let Lynn down without a run and only five hits while Pearson, in right field, clouted out two doubles.

Daly has them all tied down, and counted out when it comes to pinch hitting. Lowell's youthful catcher is the surest "sure thing" there is when he steps up to the plate when batting for some weaker stickler and he is feared already by the wise pitchers around the circuit.

The managers of both Steve Kennedy of Lawrence and Joe Egan of South Boston are trying to find a suitable city in which to let their proteges try once more for the final decision between these two clever lightweighters. There has been a lot of bad feeling between the two camps and also much bad newspaper talk between the two managers and the next bout between them should be a hummer. If the bout was lengthened to fifteen rounds it is very probable that with the animosity which exists between them, there would be a knockout. This could be an expensive production but any club can fill their house with this match.

This afternoon one of the biggest open means which will be pulled off in New England this summer will be held at New Crescent park, Providence. The principal event will be the 100-yard dash in which Davey, the colored Springfield flyer, and Al Robinson, the Worcesterer, will be entries. This race will be one of the closest performances that has been seen since the Olympic tryouts. Norman Taber of Brown will be an entry in the mile run.

The Buntings will hold a ten-mile amateur race on their grounds on Saturday, July 5th, which will bring together all the contenders for the ten-mile championship of the Merrimack valley. The race will be a bona-fide amateur contest and will be held directly under the management of the New England branch of the A. A. U. Valuable cups will be awarded to place winners and it looks from the odds as though the Buntings will be the first club to pull off a real amateur race of prominence.

Manager Gray is of the opinion that the new pitcher, Adams, will make a very valuable acquisition to the team as soon as he strikes his stride. He certainly has the build for a successful slab worker and can burn a ball over. The pitching staff will probably remain the same as it is now, with Zeiser, Maybom, Henderson, Barron and Adams. One of these will have to seek another berth, however, and this fact should prove an added incentive to glit edge box work during the next few weeks.

There have been more errors made in New England league baseball up to date than any previous records show. Just what the reason for this is not known. The teams are not composed of any worse fielders than usual, in fact they look better than the players of the last few years. The only answer can be that the clinker laden diamond where Duffy entertains his Portland fans has pulled down the fielders averages of every team in the league.

Hattie Wagner, the Red Sox captain, will be laid up for some time with the hand he injured in practice last week. Wagner received a grounder upon the middle finger of his right hand which split the digit badly. Blood poured from the wound and the doctor says that he cannot put on a suit for two weeks unless the wound heals much more rapidly than is expected. This will mean the losing of more close games for the world's champions.

LONDON, June 19.—The running of this year's English Derby at Epsom Downs will always be remembered by the public. This is due to the number of things that happened during and after the race. The great event was run June 4. Not only was Craganour, the favorite for the race, disqualified after finishing first—the race being awarded to Abeyour, a 100 to 1 shot—but Miss Emily Davidson, a militant suffragette, ran across the course at Tattenham corner and seized the bridle of the King's horse, Anmer. At that point there are double rails, and the spectators are kept behind the inner rail. Walter Earl, who rode Agadir in the race, says Miss Davidson dashed under both rails, dashed right under the head of Agadir with her eyes fixed on Anmer, who was slightly behind and on the outside, and deliberately threw herself in front of Anmer, with the dreadful result that the horse struck her, knocked her senseless, and was himself brought down through being unbalanced. Of course the horse fell, and Jockey Jones was hung heavily on to the bone hard ground and badly hurt. Miss Davidson died from injuries a few days later. Recently Craganour was sold to the government of Argentina for the sum of $150,000. The picture shows the finish of the race. The names of the horses and jockeys riding them (left to right) are: Nimbus (M. Henry), Great Sport (G. Stern), Craganour (J. Reiff), Abeyour (E. Piper), San Yat (W. Husley), Louvols (W. Easby), and Shogun (F. Wootton).

Thousands of people who attended St. Margaret's lawn party last night expressed themselves as deeply pleased with the general scheme of the place as an amusement resort, but attention was paid particularly to the smooth floor, the spacious ball and the tunnel orchestra. You can't beat the Casino. Dancing sessions are held every night and on Saturday afternoon.

Defeated Yale, 4 to 3, in Yesterday's Game

Portland Won the Third Straight From Lowell

BOSTON, June 19.—Gannett and Hardwick will long be remembered by the sons of Harvard, for yesterday afternoon, on Soldiers Field these two sent Yale down to a 4 to 3 defeat in the greatest and most nerve-racking game ever played between the rival colleges.

Fourteen innings of sensational and spectacular baseball were needed to reach the decision which gave Harvard the victory and sent the series to a tie.

Gannett was the man who with a slashing single in the ninth inning sent Ayres home with the tying run, while he also scored the winning run when Hardwick slammed the ball to the far corner of Soldiers Field and brought to a close the greatest game in Harvard's baseball history.

As soon as Hardwick had made the hit which brought home the bacon, the Harvard rooters broke down the fence which lined the diamond and actually fought to get these two ball players on their shoulders, so that they could carry them about the field.

For the third time within as many days Lowell went down to defeat yesterday before Hugh Duffy's Portland team. This result gives Portland a fairly good hold on second place.

Errors in the Lowell outfield helped matters along for Portland. Magee muffed a fly of Bowcock's and Clemens booted a hard hit grounder, both misplays counting in the run column. Portland played errorless ball, a very difficult performance on their own grounds.

Corey handled the sphere for the Duffies and Lowell hit him hard throughout, nine hits being gathered off his delivery. Henderson, who started the game for Lowell proved anything but a puzzle and was taken out in the second after Portland had connected with the ball for three hits. Adams, who replaced him, lasted five innings before he was chased to the bench and Maybom finished the game. Two hits and one run were scored with the latter was on the mound.

Merrill was the real batting feature of the contest with his four safe hits. Burns and Wormwood also hit well for Portland, while Miller, Clemens and Daly showed class with the stick for the local team. Daly went in to bat for Adams in the seventh and landed on the ball for a double. Aubrey accepted pine chances in the field without a misplay.

LOWELL HIGH DEFEATS HAVERHILL

Score 9 to 4—Cawley's All Around Work the Feature—Sturtevant Pitched Good Game

Lowell high defeated Haverhill high yesterday afternoon at Spaulding park in a well played game, the score at the end of Haverhill's ninth turn at bat being 9 to 4. Lowell started scoring in the first inning and was never headed, although Haverhill tied up the game in the fourth. Haverhill came strong in the last two innings and put four runs over the plate.

Sturtevant was in the points for Lowell and twirled a very good game. He was touched up for nine hits, but managed to keep them pretty well scattered with the exception of the eighth and ninth innings. Sturtevant also put the game on ice in the fourth when he slammed the ball over the left field fence for a homer, sending in Gill who was on first base, ahead of him. Sturtevant struck out seven batters in the first three innings and it looked as though he would make a new record but only one more fanned the breezes during the remainder of the game.

Cawley played a whirlwind game at short. He played an errorless game in the field and clouted out three savage hits, one of which would have been a homer if poor coaching had not held him at third. The base running of Cawley and Gill were the features of the game.

Greene made a mighty fine catch of Cawley's hard hit line drive over the third bag in the fifth inning, completing a double play when he stepped on third base before Carter could reach it. Bailey and Carter both played an excellent game in the field. The score:

Sam P. Carrick Says Lowell Players As a Whole Shape Up More Like a Class A Team

Sam P. Carrick, of the Boston Post, a well known authority on baseball players, was at a Lowell game the other day and expressed his opinion on some of Jimmy Gray's players in the following article:

The Lowell players, as a whole, shape up more like a Class A team than an ordinary New England one. Carrick, the writer they appear to be about as strong as Bill Smith's fast moving Atlanta ball team, which defeated the Boston Braves in two out of a five-game series this spring and which has been making trouble for all other clubs in the Southern league since then. There is just this difference. In the ranks of the Atlanta club there were many former major league players who had been in the big show for several seasons. There are no such men on the Lowell club. There are players there who have been up for a trial and been sent back for more seasoning or because there was no room in the ranks of the club which drafted them. But on the whole the Lowell players look like a class of men whose careers are before, not behind them.

FINE MINSTREL SHOW

Given by Y.M.C.A. Boys Last Night

A very enjoyable minstrel show was given by boys of the Y. M. C. A. last night. The scene of the entertainment was the Y. M. C. A. hall and the large audience present was very enthusiastic over the work of the performers. The proceeds of the show were for the benefit of the summer camp of the Y. M. C. A. The boys were all dressed in yachting costumes, with yachting caps and represented the Jack tars of Uncle Sam's navy. The stage was made to represent the forward deck of a battleship. The sailors were grouped on the deck and ushered in the opening scene with that familiar song, "Swing, Sailors, Swing." The deck was then cleared for the minstrel show and prior to the raising of the curtain, C. N. Cushman's Y. M. C. A. orchestra gave an overture. The minstrel show program was as follows:

Louis Gracie, "The Old Maid's Ball," Thomas Rogers, "When You and I Were Young Maggie," Joseph Pickles, "Underneath the Cotton Moon," H. A. Maxwell, "Asleep in the Deep," Jarleth Dacey, "If I Said Please," Harold Dunn, "Kentucky Back to Carolina," Louis Gracie, "Swing, Sailors, Swing," Ernest Roberts, "Star of My Life," Theodore Fletcher.

Then came a grand finale entitled "The Village Band," by Ernest Orrell, assisted by the entire crew.

George Love gave a concert solo which orchestra accompanied and Ernest Roberts gave a lively "town dance." Miss Anna Murphy, who was pianist for the evening, gave a piano solo, and Albert J. Wickie entertained with character sketches. Mr. Wickie was the interlocator. The men were Emmet Roberts, Harold Dunn, H. A. Maxwell and Thomas Rogers. The soloists for the old were Messrs. Pickles, Orrell, Grand, Hayward, Fletcher and Dacey. The members of the chorus were: Earl Spaulding, Paul Conway, Robert Ward, Augustus Dayton, Ray Russell, Earl Leadbetter, Ray Barrow, Donald Fletcher, Carter Hoyt, Roland Fells, Arthur Thompson, L. Brown, Samuel Babigan, Wm. Martin, George W. Williams, Wm. Golden, William French, Joseph Hart, Ray Forges, Ray F. Stevens, Alden Taylor, Arthur McInish, Harold Pickens, Herbert Coggins, Norris Marston.

The Kasino

Thousands of people who attended St. Margaret's lawn party last night expressed themselves as deeply pleased with the general scheme of the place as an amusement resort, but attention was paid particularly to the smooth floor, the spacious ball and the tunnel orchestra. You can't beat the Casino. Dancing sessions are held every night and on Saturday afternoon.

More Trouble Feared at Charleston, W. Va.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., June 15.—A general strike of the miners in the New River coal field, district No. 22, United Mine Workers of America, will be called next week, according to an announcement last night of Thomas Haggerty, member of the International Miners' board. Fifteen thousand men are employed in the New River field.

The decision to call a general strike was reached yesterday at Beckley, W. Va. Mr. Haggerty attended the meeting and returned here last night.

Whether 15,000 miners will be idle depends, it is said, upon what concessions may be granted by the operators. It is believed that some of the operators within a few days will grant terms agreeable to their employees. In all such instances, it is estimated, such operators will be protected when the strike comes.

The members of the miners' board at the Beckley meeting today held the strike in abeyance, but with difficulty. The miners, it is said, are restless and on the verge of organizing a walk-out. It is rumored the New River operators were in conference late last night. A strike in the New River field is expected to result in a renewal of the strike on Cabin and Paint creeks.

Off For Washington

CHARLESTON, W. Va., June 15.—The Senate mine strike investigating committee closed up its work in Charleston for the present and started last night for Washington. The committee took under advisement a request made by attorneys for the West Virginia coal operators that a subcommittee be allowed to return to Charleston at a later time to complete the taking of evidence which the operators desire to submit. The investigation will be resumed in Washington within the next few weeks, Senator Swanson, chairman of the committee, announced before the committee adjourned.

Bishop Sees Attempt to Control University

ATLANTA, Ga., June 19.—Charges that the recently announced gift of one million dollars by Andrew Carnegie to the Vanderbilt university at

Nashville, Tenn., "is not a donation but a shrewd attempt to get control of part of the university property" and that the retired iron master is "dangling money before the public with the purpose of influencing litigation pending over the university" are yesterday by Bishop W. A. Candler of the Methodist Episcopal church, south.

Bishop Candler characterized Mr. Carnegie's offer of a donation to the university as an "impudent proposal of an agnostic steel monger."

"This loud heralded gift," Bishop

Candler's statement recites, "on close inspection of its terms appears to be no gift at all, but a shrewd attempt to get control of a part of the property of Vanderbilt university in order to set up a medical school fashioned according to the peculiar ideas of Mr. Carnegie."

Lowell people will be interested to know that J. Anthony Smythe, late leading man of the Drama Players, is playing leads at the Temple theatre in Hamilton, Ontario.

The pupils of St. Joseph's college in Merrimack street were given a treat this morning, when after being taken to the upper hall of the building they were entertained by a number of the boys, who delivered a fine musical and literary program. The hall was packed to the doors and the entertainment was one of the best ever presented in the college. The affair was a sort of dress rehearsal, for those who will repeat the program this evening when the commencement exercises will be given.

At 9 o'clock the boys were ushered into the hall and listened attentively to the famous comedy entitled "Un Oncle au Volapuk," from the pen of H. Denizot. The play was very interesting and amusing throughout and was often interrupted by the loud applause of the boys.

The cast of the play is as follows:

Diogenes Arthur Lirette
Gaston George Martineau
Léon Herve Perron
Herr Shalham Leo Giroux
Lord Cruckford Ernest Polier

The play was under the personal direction of Rev. Bro. Bernardin, S. M., director of the school, and he deserves much credit for the fine interpretation of such a beautiful comedy.

This evening the graduates, fourteen in number, will be presented their school diplomas, as well as the diocesan diplomas, while many will receive beautiful prizes, which will consist of gold and silver medals and valuable volumes.

The graduates are, as follows: Ernest Polier, Wilmer Ricard, Leo Giroux, Leo L'Heureux, Antoine Berger, Paul Chevalier, Victor Hamel, Arthur Lirette, Herve Perron, Emile Lemire, Achille Gaulin, Arthur Gagnon, Paul Choquette and Leonard Blanchard.

Others to receive prizes are: Conrad Vigeant, Joseph Bergeron, Joseph Dalgie, George Biron, Rene Gagnon, the diocesan examinations.

The diplomas will be presented by the pastor of the parish, Rev. Henri Watelle, O. M. I., while the prizes will be presented by the respective donors. A fact worth mentioning is that each graduate will receive the diocesan diploma, which is the first time in the history of the school that an entire class of graduates passed successfully the diocesan examinations.

LADIES' DAY AT COUNTRY CLUB

A Large Number Went to the Island This
Afternoon

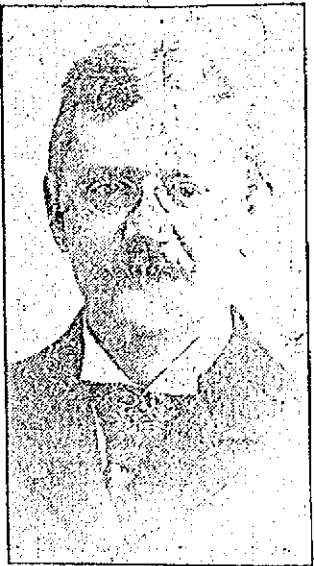

With the weather conditions ideal and the general arrangements perfect in every detail, the annual "ladies' day" of the Vesper country club took place today at the beautiful grounds on Tyng's island. There were present very many members together with their ladies and all thoroughly enjoyed the day's events.

The club house and grounds were attractively decorated with floral and many flowers of various descriptions. Japanese lanterns were strung about, adding to the picturesque quality of the scene and in readiness for illumination tonight.

Early in the afternoon the members and guests began to arrive, and first of all enjoyed a stroll about the grounds, admiring the surroundings. From every side were heard words of praise and appreciation of the artistic work of the decorative committee and expressions of delight at the general appearance of the place. A more beautiful spot could not be found for the complete enjoyment of such an outing.

The many and alluring amusement resources were sought by all according to their taste. Some were pleased to remain in quiet in the shady spots and to enjoy the activity of the others; not a few found enjoyment in gliding over the waters of the river in canoes, while still others repaired themselves to the golf links to settle the question of superiority in that department. The sixth regiment band was in attendance and furnished excellent music throughout the afternoon.

Among the feature events scheduled to take place in the afternoon were some tennis matches, the contestants in which are some well known experts at the game. The principal competition was a match between the club and the players were Ted Whitney of Houghton, winner of the recent Longwood tournament, and a close competitor in the contests for the championship of Massachusetts; Dick Bishop of Boston, another prominent expert performer on the courts, who has held titles in singles in the big tournaments; Irving C. Wright, a third player and title holder from the club who has defeated some of the best men in the east, and "Rab" Seaver, who for several years held the state championship in singles.

FRED P. MARBLE, Esq.
President

Some of the Vesper club's best players participated in the other contests. L. H. Martin of the Country club was scheduled to meet Charles Currier, a Boston star, in a game of singles, and a similar competition was arranged between S. M. Rockwell of the Vesper club and Robert M. Currier, of Boston. No mean interest was centered about these games for all of the contestants are well known in tennis circles.

During a portion of the afternoon, a number of the ladies engaged in a tournament of whist as a pastime, while others remained to look on. This was a most pleasant feature.

The afternoon, however, was only the beginning and there is further entertainment prepared for this evening. At about half-past five, supper will be served, continuing to seven-thirty, and following this there will be a concert of special numbers by the band, after which general dancing will be enjoyed in the club house.

Harry Pollard was chairman of the general committee in charge of the arrangements and his assistants were Perry Thompson and William G. Brown.

the standard that has been accomplished by the Howe school. The principal address of the day was given by Professor Marshall L. Perrin, Ph. D., of Boston University, whose subject was "American Ideals." In the course of his address Professor Perrin said that for at least some of the graduates the school days were over and with the training that they have already received together with earnest work in future years success was assured them. At the close of his talk he congratulated the members of the class for the fine showing they have made and for having the ambition to work to the finish. Professor Perrin was an eloquent speaker and his address this afternoon as well as being interesting was instructive to those whose school days are over as well as to the graduating class.

During the exercises music was given by Hubbard's orchestra. This evening the Howe School association will hold its seventeenth annual reunion in the town hall. At six o'clock dinner will be served and a social hour will be enjoyed at which there will be speaking by the members and guests. Dancing will be enjoyed from 9 to 12. Officers of the association for the coming year will be elected.

Those who received a four year diploma were Evelyn Kathryn Casey, Rita Marion Collins, Ruth Elizabeth Dimock, Florence Judith Flisk, Roy Loring Gleason, Mary Josephine Hayes, James P. Schwartz, Beatrice Irene Swinington.

The three year course graduates were: Alice Bateson, Frederick Sears Cook, Alden Clifford Jones, Helen Margaret Larson, Charles Lyman Ritchie.

REMOVED TO PEST HOUSE

came to that office ten days after the first vaccination and the subject was successful. A certificate is allowed, and if not successful the subject is vaccinated a second time with instructions to call again in ten days. In other words, and to make a long story short, the board of health does not issue certificates unless the operation has been successful.

Dr. Charles E. Simpson, inspector for the state board of health, participated in the discussion this morning and offered some very good suggestions. Dr. Simpson said, among other things, that a comparatively recent vaccination is a better protection against smallpox than having had the disease a number of years ago.

This statement came as somewhat of a surprise to those in the party who entertained the belief that smallpox was a "one time" disease. They did not know that one could have the smallpox more than once and that they quizzed Dr. Simpson very closely. "It is a fact, and I say it especially for the benefit of the reporters for it is something that ought to be generally known, that comparatively recent vaccination is better protection than to have had the smallpox a number of years ago."

The doctor also expressed himself as in favor of the system of vaccination in vogue in the U. S. navy. The modus operandi is to clean the arm with alcohol, then put a small drop of virus on the arm and with a sharp needle make a double cross. The doctor says there is less danger from poison and the system is more effective than in the ordinary process used. Dr. Simpson also gave his opinion that no doctor should give a certificate of vaccination until he has had the smallpox a number of years ago.

Public and Private Schools

"Is a private school a public school?" This question is somewhat ambiguous, but it has been asked just the same, and by a member of the board of health. It was Dr. Carroll who asked it and he put the question to the mayor at a recent meeting of the board. The question was asked in the course of a discussion of the smallpox situation, the suggestion having been made that the law governing vaccination in public schools should apply to private schools as well.

The number of unvaccinated children found in private schools was greater than was anticipated and so the question of vaccination in private schools is being given more attention. The question of vaccination, when it comes down to a final analysis, remains with the teacher and section 16 of the public school rules, as published in The Sun yesterday, makes it a very important duty on the part of the teacher to see to it that all pupils entering schools have certificates of vaccination.

SUPERIOR COURT

The Case of Perry vs. Boston & Maine Railroad Was Given to the Jury Today

The case of Perry vs. Boston and Maine a $15,000 suit for alleged injuries received by the plaintiff due to the negligence of the company, was brought to a close this morning in the superior court after having been on trial for the past several days. Judge Pratt began his charge to the jury shortly after the opening of the session this morning and its delivery was not completed until about 11 o'clock. The case was then given to the jury.

Land Case Called

Following the conclusion of the case against the railroad company, the suit of Thomas H. Elliot vs. City of Lowell was called for trial. The action is one of contract, brought to have the city restore the damages alleged by the plaintiff to have arisen from the seizure of a lot of land by the city at the corner of London and Maine streets, where has stood a school house. It appears that the city has hired the land for some time and conducted a school there and recently seized the land to erect a new school house. There were several witnesses in the court this afternoon including real estate experts, and a good deal of the plaintiff's testimony was submitted. Lawyer Hogan represented the plaintiff, while the city's case is being up-held by City Solicitor J. Joseph Hennebery.

Horse Stolen

The local police received a telephone call from the police of Fitchburg this morning stating that a horse had been stolen from Dr. C. A. Keene of that city last yesterday afternoon. Inspector Walsh was assigned to the case.

AT HOWE SCHOOL IN BILLERICA

Graduation Exercises Held This
Afternoon — Prof. Perrin the
Speaker—The Graduates

The Howe school graduation exercises of the class of 1913 were held this afternoon in the Billerica town hall at 2 o'clock. A large number of relatives and friends of the class, as well as a number of former graduates were present. The hall was tastefully adorned with flowers placed around the walls and the front of the stage was hidden from the audience by flowers of the season and wreaths of green. The class of 1913 is the first class to receive diplomas of graduation from the Howe school.

The program was opened with a prayer by the Rev. J. Harold Dale, pastor of the Billerica Congregational church. First honor, "Panama Canal," was given by Miss Florence Judith Fiske and this declamation as well as those that followed were very well given and the instructors deserve credit for the thorough training they have given the students. Second honor was divided between Miss Alice Bateson and Miss Ruth Dimock as each received the same mark in studies. Miss Bateson gave an essay on "The Buried City of Pompeii," while Miss Dimock's subject was "Livingstone, the Missionary Explorer." The class prophecy was rendered by Miss Evelyn K. Casey and was very interesting as well as humorous.

The diplomas were conferred to the thirteen graduates by Frederick S. Clark, and he took occasion to congratulate the teachers and the class of 1913 for the fine work done during the past year. Mr. J. Nelson Parker, president of the board of trustees, spoke briefly for the trustees, he also speaking highly of the class of 1913 and thanking them for helping to keep up the standard that has been accomplished by the Howe school.

"JOKER" IN TARIFF BILL Amendment to Sugar Schedule Necessary

WASHINGTON, June 19.—An eleventh hour discovery that the sugar schedule of the Underwood tariff bill had a "joker" in it which would have operated to make all refined sugar dutiable at two cents a pound and nullify the provision for free sugar after three years, resulted yesterday in an amendment to the schedule by majority members of the senate finance committee.

Elimination in the Underwood bill of the dutch standard of color, which has been in tariff bills for many years, it was discovered, made applicable to all refined sugar a paragraph taken from the Payne-Aldrich bill, relating to confectionery, which included the following words:

"Sugars after being refined, when tinted, colored or in any way adulterated, two cents per pound."

The majority members of the finance committee and their attention was called to this matter by Senator Shepard of Texas, who was petitioned by the chamber of commerce of Greenville, Texas, to look into the provision which they believed might defeat the purpose of the administration and the majority in congress as to ultimate tariff on sugar. It was suggested that the language of the bill as it stood could be so construed as to apply to all refined sugar, which, in being refined, is colored with ultramarine. The dutch standard of color was taken out of the bill and stipulated specifically as to the coloring of refined sugar.

The question struck members of the finance committee so forcibly that an investigation was ordered and President Wilson when his attention was called to it agreed that it should be looked into thoroughly.

Late yesterday the majority members of the committee received expert reports to the effect that the language might operate as a joker and they promptly struck out the language as it referred to refined sugar and left it applicable only to confectionery.

Another important amendment to the bill agreed upon by the committee would repeal an act passed in 1890 exempting brands used by manufacturers to fortify grape wines, from general internal revenue tax. This amendment will increase the government revenue by $7000 a year. The amendment would result in the regular internal tax revenue of 1.0 per gallon being paid on all brands used in fortifying wine. Under the present law the special revenue tax on all such brands is three cents a gallon.

LOWELL GOLFERS COMPETE

In Massachusetts Golf Championship at Wollaston Golf Club Today.—Interesting Matches on

WOLLASTON, June 19.—The Massachusetts golf championship entered the match play stage at the Wollaston golf club today with 32 survivors of the qualifying round yesterday paired in the morning contests.

Interest centered in the struggle between F. W. Whittemore and Secretary H. H. Wilder, both of the Country Club and veterans of the links, although it was N. K. Sterne of Tatnuck, a hard match, which was the most desirable or unparliamentary spirit in their affairs. The races are for fun.

The weather was favorable with a hazy sky, cool air and light breeze.

MOTOR BOAT RACES

Will be Feature of 4th Celebration

The lively fleet of the Lowell Motor Boat club has been increased by the addition of several newly built speed boats this season, a fact which will make the races on July Fourth of exceeding interest to Lowell people who are fond of the motor boat sport. By this racing season the plans for which have been in progress throughout the entire winter, the Lowell Motor Boat club will contribute the principal feature of the Fourth of July program, having completed the arrangements at considerable expense and always taking pains to afford the greatest convenience and comfort to the spectators, from whom, of course, no admission fee nor tax of any kind is received.

The course has been laid out for these events so that the people on the river banks may have a grand view of the motor races, and not at the turns alone, as was the case last year. People who intend witnessing the races will appreciate this act of courtesy in their behalf on the part of the members of the club for it will enable them to enjoy the contests.

Then, too, a series of events has been planned, and as it now stands includes the following: Motorboat races: No. 1, four miles handicap; No. 2, six miles handicap; No. 3, ten miles open. Canoe races: No. 1, one mile double; No. 2, one-half mile single; No. 3, 440 yards, 10 boys taking race. The canoe races and tub contests will be run off between the motorboat events.

It will be remembered that in the Labor day races of last year, the various boats were handicapped in such a manner as gave a grand view of the small, fast and slow, an even chance of taking a prize and the handicappers displayed excellent judgment in the work of arranging the handicaps. This added greatly to the interest in the races and the boats were strong on along the course, somewhat after the manner of a motor race. This year there will be a motorboat display.

No little interest is centered about the ten mile open scratch event in which will be entered some of the fastest boats on the river. Prominent among these is the hydroplane of Fred Holmes, which in spite of a broken rudder, will show a remarkable record. Last year, Mr. Holmes had his craft equipped with a new and much more powerful engine and the work necessitated the reinforcing of the bottom of the boat to a considerable extent. This is a big favorite of the race and will be one of the strongest competitors. But, as the saying goes, "there are others," and Mr. Holmes, if he wins, will have no walk-away. The field is a large and a fast one and besides those boats which were in the fast race last year are several new and large ones built since the past winter and their owners are in every case quietly confident in the ability of their respective craft to bring home the honor.

That tub race is bound to furnish a good deal of amusement and the canoe races will be hard fought in every case. The prizes for all the events are worth striving for.

This is the kind of Fourth of July celebration that people like to witness, being an exhibition of cool clean sport and good natured rivalry. For the members of the club are the best of citizens and will not allow any undesirable or unparliamentary spirit in their affairs. The races are for fun.

THREE CHICKEN THIEVES

Fled in an Auto When Detected

THEY HAD ROBBED MR. BARLOW'S FARM

Many Farmers in That Vicinity Have Lost Hens—Robbers Have Ready Means of Escape

Irving Barlow, of Second street, who keeps a variety store on Chelmsford street near the depot in Lowell, had stolen from his small farm 90 chickens, on the eleventh of this month.

Last Monday night at 12 o'clock, when Mr. Barlow generally gets home, he thought he heard strange sounds coming from the rear of his barn. He crept around to see what the trouble was, but his dog was ahead of him and rushed back of the barn to give three chicken thieves a bad scare. The three men immediately took to their heels and ran across Mr. Barlow's field towards South street, with the dog and Mr. Barlow in pursuit.

The men after reaching South street got into an automobile which Mr. Barlow had previously noticed after leaving the electric cars, and went at a fast gallop towards Lowell.

Mr. Barlow saw that each of the men had a gun. They had evidently come around with the purpose of relieving the farm of a few more chickens.

Mr. Joseph H. Richardson of First street in the same vicinity lost twelve chickens about the same time that Mr. Barlow's disappeared and it is thought that the same party stole them.

The residents of the town are wondering who maintains an automobile for the purpose of stealing chickens.

A few nights ago the hen coop of Mrs. Fred Kennedy was completely cleared of its occupants by thieves.

GRADUATION OF NURSES

Held at the Lowell General Hospital

The graduation exercises of the training school for nurses of the Lowell General hospital were held this afternoon at 4 o'clock on the grounds adjacent to the hospital. Between 100 and 150 guests were present, including a large number of friends of the hospital were present to witness the exercises.

The program was opened with prayer by the Rev. George W. King, pastor of St. Paul's Methodist church and this was followed by music. The principal speaker of the afternoon was Miss Sara Parsons, superintendent of the training school for nurses of the Massachusetts general hospital and her talk was very instructive to the graduates and the guests present. There were also interesting remarks by Dr. George L. Van Dusen, president of the hospital staff, and Rev. Mr. Lincoln, pastor of the Kirk Street Congregational church.

During the afternoon refreshments were served and an informal reception was held. A diploma and class pin was presented to each graduate.

The nine young women who have completed four years' study at the hospital are: Alma E. Belliveau, Louise A. Benoit, Catherine E. Carter, Yale B. Cate, Elizabeth P. McIntosh, Ethel A. Pease, Annabel G. Proctor, Mary E. Stickney and Alice M. Wrenland.

SENATORS ARE TIRED

Return From Strenuous Investigation

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Three tired United States senators came back to Washington today after a week of strenuous investigation in the coal strike district of West Virginia. Senators Swanson, Kenyon and Martin, who concluded for a time their examination of witnesses at Charleston yesterday returned to the senate to take up their legislative duties.

During a week in Charleston the committee examined nearly a hundred witnesses, often sitting until after midnight and looking about one million words of testimony.

The committee will resume hearings in "Washington in a few weeks and will take up the charge of the West Virginia coal operators that the miners' union is in league with operators in competitive fields to ruin the West Virginia industry.

Bridges workers are repairing the Tyngsboro bridge and the bridge will be open for traffic in about ten days. The experts working on the repair plans estimate that the cost will not exceed $2000.

WRECK INVESTIGATION

izing the pressure. Commissioner McChord interrupted to ask Mr. Bardo how long Doherty had been on the run.

"Three days" was the answer. Mr. Langdon explained the test run of yesterday in which the train going 61 miles an hour was able to stop in 27 seconds. The gap between the engine and the cars "kicked off" was 192 feet. This indicates, he said, that the brakes "were as nearly perfect as they could be."

The second breaking away test of yesterday was at a speed of 53 miles an hour with the engine on a descending grade. The engine stopped in 26 seconds and the train kicked off in 24.4 seconds. The gap between the train and the engine was 151 feet.

Would Not Allow Train to Run

Charles W. Martin, general airbrake inspector of the Pennsylvania railroad for seven years, was next called to the stand. Asked by Chief Inspector Belnap of the interstate commerce commission whether he would allow a train equipped such as was the second section of the Springfield express as he found it in the test to run as the "Pennsylvania Limited," he replied, "No." He would not allow it to run as any of the fast Pennsylvania trains. He thought the distance between the home and distance signals for proper safety should be 1500 or 2000 feet. He described the qualifications necessary for men to secure positions as engineers on the Pennsylvania railroad. Experience as freight engineers is first required. Special thorough examinations are demanded after the road foreman has made recommendations. Traveling engineers and road foremen ride on the engine with the man on their first run.

After he had read the testimony of Engineer Doherty, Mr. Martin said: "I do not think, personally, he should have been allowed to handle a fast train. We would not allow it on the Pennsylvania railroad unless there was no one else available."

Says Brakes Were Good

Mr. Martin was a member of the board of inquiry that was on the test run on Tuesday. He noticed the air guages especially. He said the brake on engine 1338 was in "first class condition." It was tested carefully before the run. The brakes on the train were also found to be in good condition. He expected to find a larger gap between the engine and the cars in the "breaking away" tests of yesterday. Mr. Bardo asked Mr. Martin concerning the signal system on the Pennsylvania road, where many stops are made. He said the engineers are supposed to depend largely upon signals where travel is congested. It required a pressure of 40 pounds to work the brakes on that car on Tuesday.

He explained his previous remarks that he would not allow the second section of the train to go as a fast train on the Pennsylvania railroad, saying he would not let the car Centerville go out. In reply to persistent questions by Mr. Belnap, however, he reiterated his statement that he would not allow such a train to make the trip.

Says Engineer Was Not Qualified

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., June 19.—"My own personal opinion is that Engineer Doherty should not have been allowed to run the train," declared Patrick J. Langdon, an air brake expert of the Lackawanna railroad, referring to the wreck at Stamford last Thursday, before the joint inquiry by the interstate commerce commission and the Connecticut public utilities commission, late yesterday. He said that Doherty would not have been allowed to run a passenger train on the Lackawanna until he had had at least three years' experience as a freight engineer.

Mr. Langdon also gave testimony as to the results of the test run made by the same engine and equipment as in the Stamford wreck and intended to duplicate conditions at the time of the accident. General Manager Bardo, of the New Haven, asked him this question: "As an air brake expert, would you say that the performance of the test train yesterday was satisfactory, that is—as trains come and go?"

Mr. Langdon promptly replied "yes." Asked as to the type of air brakes used in the wreck, Mr. Langdon said: "They are the best type of locomotive brakes on the market today." He said he would rather have an engineer with good judgment and poor brakes than first class brakes and an engineer with poor judgment. All the safeguards in the world are valueless, he declared, if the engineer uses poor judgment.
